A DYNAMIC PLAN TO GUARANTEE AND MAINTAIN UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Original Proposal for an International Alliance to Prevent War by Combined World Force, Seeking Peace With Honor for All Lands.

[A. P. CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 1.—Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, of Los Angeles, has drawn up what he entitles a "Dynamic Plan to Guarantee and Maintain Universal Peace." The text follows:

OUTLINE.

Five of the principal Powers of the world (or not more than seven in all) could, in the judgment of the author of this plan of action, justifiably and successfully unite in the formation of an international Alliance, to be called the Universal Peace Pact, with the openly declared object of guaranteeing and maintaining the peace of the world; such Alliance to have this general scope, and to be moved by these fundamental principles, viz:

PREAMBLE.

Seeking peace with honor throughout the world, and animated by the supreme motive of ending, or greatly minimizing, wars and their mighty evils, we, the Powers named in this instrument, acting through our duly chosen and authorized agents, do hereby join ourselves together in an international Alliance, the purposes of which are declared herein, and when not declared, they may be implied, but upon the essential condition that the purposes implied shall be consistent with the purposes declared. And to carry into effect these objects and purposes, we pledge to each other, and to the world, our united efforts, civil, diplomatic and military. It is due to the world, and to the nations constituting this Alliance, that we should, in the outset, openly declare that our matured and deliberate purpose is to achieve, secure and maintain peace throughout the world by the exercise of combined world force, the same to be employed in pursuance of international laws to be enacted by us, such international military force to be invoked when the necessity therefor arises, and not otherwise. [The respective nations first entering the Pact are to be enumerated in the draft of the original agreement.]

ARTICLES.

I. This Alliance shall be known as the Peace Pact of the Five Powers, and it shall give to itself a threefold character, viz., an international Congress, civil and legislative in character; an international Court of Arbitration, judicial in character; and an international Military Pact. The three bodies as constituted shall be composed of the same Powers, and be represented by the persons chosen by each from time to time to serve therein. The three bodies in constituted shall have no authority or power to act separately upon any matter or subject of international concern, but agree to act together in all matters necessary for the consideration of all.

II. The Congress shall have the right and authority to frame and adopt a constitution, to enact all necessary laws, rules and regulations for its own government and for the common government of the Alliance so formed, and for dealing with questions of peace, war and arbitration, and for giving full effect to the aims and purposes of the Congress and of the Pact. The international Court of Arbitration shall have the power to consider and decide all questions properly coming within the purview of its authority, subject to the overruling action of the Congress. The Military Pact shall be the authorized force to carry into effect the will of the Alliance.

III. The Congress shall have power to admit other nations to the Alliance upon application and after subscribing to the constitution and laws made thereunder. Every nation so received into membership shall be admitted upon even terms with the most favored original member of the Alliance, and shall have all the powers, rights, immunities and prerogatives enjoyed by the same.

IV. This Alliance shall continue in existence for a period of ten years from the date of its formation, unless sooner dissolved by unanimous consent of the parties thereto. But once having entered the Pact and its associate Congress and Court, no member of the Alliance shall have the right or liberty of withdrawing from the same before the expiration of its life, except with the full consent, first previously given, of all the co-ordinated nations, acting jointly upon the matter.

V. With the stated object in view, we agree to jointly use all our power and influence, backed by our respective military and naval armaments, to accomplish the paramount objects sought; and for this purpose we each pledge to the other, upon the honor of each, that we will not go to war with each other, nor will we permit other nations to go to war among themselves, or with us, or with any of us; but we pledge ourselves to act at all times jointly to protect the common interest, the universal peace, the integrity of all the nations, and the autonomy or territorial possessions of each, wherever situated. And at the same time we bind ourselves each to the other that we will not expand, or seek to expand, by means of conquest, aggression or other forcible means, our present territorial limitations, and that any future increase of territory which may be made by us, or either of us, shall be made only through friendly purchase, exchange, discovery or gift.

VI. To reach the common end in view, we agree, in the event of threatened war in any part of the world, to join together our respective armaments for the prevention of armed conflict; and we each guarantee to the other that, during the existence of this Alliance, we will neither diminish nor increase our respective military or naval armaments as they stood at the date of the creation of this Alliance, without the previous full consent of all the members of the Pact, acting together through the Congress. Furthermore, we will each meet the cost and expenses of our respective armaments during times of peace.

VII. The measure of the military strength to be held available by each power for the common object shall be the full measure of the military strength of each as it stood at the date of the formation of the Pact, unless otherwise agreed by and between the members thereto; and the Congress shall have the right and authority, whenever in its judgment the necessity arises, to call upon the members of the Pact to mobilize their respective forces for action in the field. But neither the Congress nor the Pact shall have or exercise any control over the armies or navies of any of the individual nations composing the Alliance, save in times of active war or preparations for the same. Should war actually ensue, the cost thereof shall be apportioned by the Congress among the different members of the Pact, in proportion to the military strength of each. [The term "military strength" used herein shall be construed to include naval strength also.]

VIII. Whenever the danger of armed conflict shall appear to the Congress to have disappeared or receded into the distance, and whenever other nations, not members of this Pact, reposing confidence in the good intentions and ability of this Alliance, shall make material and permanent reductions in their respective armaments, then this Alliance and its respective members may diminish their military strength correspondingly, or to such extent as may be first agreed upon by and between the respective Powers concerned; and, conversely, whenever danger clouds shall appear upon the international horizon so lowering as to make war preparations necessary, with a corresponding or adequate increase in the military strength of the Pact, then the Congress shall authorize and require the same to be made.

IX. The Congress shall have the power to equitably fix the military quota, or share which each nation shall contribute for active service in the possible event of war; and while these respective quotas may or may not be the same, (since the military strength of the different nations in the Pact is not equal,) this condition shall not operate to prohibit the Congress from mobilizing for active service such proportionate military contingent from each nation as shall make the contributions of all as nearly equalized as may be.

X. Four-fifths of the members of the Congress, acting together, shall be necessary to the delivery of a warning or an ultimatum, or to a declaration of intended hostile action against any recalcitrant power or powers outside of the Alliance. But no declaration of war shall be made by the Alliance save upon grounds justified by its constitution, laws and declared objects, nor until fair warning to the offending power shall have been twice given. But should the cause of one of the contending nations be found upon due and searching investigation, made by us, to be distinctly meritorious as against the cause of the opposing nation, then in that event, we pledge the Congress and the Pact to require of the offending nation due and ample reparation for the benefit of the aggrieved nation, in the form, not of territorial partition, but of money indemnity or honorable and ample apology, one or both.

XI. In the event of a serious quarrel between any two nations, threatening war, we agree with each other and declare to the world, that, acting in the capacity of an international Court of Arbitration, we will first conjointly intervene for the peaceable and honorable settlement of such quarrel; second, if a fair adjustment of the quarrel cannot be reached peacefully, we will, acting as the Military Pact, issue our joint ultimatum that no resort to arms shall be had by or between the two contending nations; and third, in such case we will make our edict effective by means of force applied in the right quarter, in the right measure, and at the right time or times.

XII. But if the hurt of the aggrieved nation be so deep and serious that nothing short of war can heal it, and should the arbitrament of the sword be demanded by both the contending powers, then, in that event, the Congress and the Pact pledge themselves each to the other, that they will permit the conflict to take place, but within limitations as to nature, time, territory and duration to be fixed by the Alliance alone; it agreeing in advance to see to it that fair play, a square deal and an even chance shall be guaranteed to both the contending nations. And when such conflict shall have progressed to a point which, in the judgment of the Alliance, the Congress and the Pact, all acting together, shall be deemed adequate for the occasion, they will command and enforce peace between the antagonists.

XIII. No intervention in purely domestic quarrels, insurrections or internecine conflicts within any nation, and not extending to or beyond the borders of such nation, shall be undertaken by the Congress or the Pact, or by any member of either, save upon the direct, authoritative application and formal request of the power immediately concerned. But whenever any domestic or internecine armed conflict shall assume proportions so serious as to menace the integrity of the border or borders of any contiguous power, or the lives or property of residents, citizens or subjects of any member of the Alliance, and when the government de facto of such power shall have shown itself unable or unwilling to extend adequate protection, then the Alliance may intervene for the suppression of such insurrection or internecine conflict, and may, also, in urgent cases, arm, provision and supply its endangered citizens or subjects residing or sojourning within such internally disturbed country. But such arming, supplying and provisioning shall never be construed as war.

GRATIFIED BY HOSPITALITY ACCORDED THEM HERE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Japanese delegates to the International Red Cross conference at Washington are tickled over the hospitality accorded them here. They said so earnestly today at a luncheon given in their honor by the Japan Society, at the Hotel Astor.

The luncheon was set in the Ballroom, which is part of the hotel's roof garden. The guests were distributed at small tables. Among those at the first table were Lindsay Russell, president of the Japan Society; Baron Onawa, Countess Onawa, Madame T. Nagasaki and ex-Gov. Port of New Jersey. Jacob H. Schiff presided at table number five, where seated among the others were: Mrs. Schiff, Miss Lillian Wald, M. Togo and Gen. and Mrs. Stewart Woodford.

Ex-Gov. Ford said the people of the United States are just as desirous of being friends with the Japanese as they are with us. The good relations between the countries shall and must be preserved. There is no reason why the rising sun of Japan and the Stars and Stripes of America should not control the Pacific peacefully together.

Mr. Togo interpreted for Baron Onawa, who said: "Words are inadequate to express the appreciation of the hospitality shown us. There is no reason for suspicion on the part of your countrymen towards ours. I find here no trace of unfriendliness. Japan and I know there is no unfriendly feeling for you back in our country. The two countries are allied by friendship, even if a treaty alliance exists."

Woodford and others also spoke.

PEACHES HURT BY COLD.

State Horticulturist of Delaware Warns of Serious Damage to the Buds by Unseasonable Weather.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WILMINGTON (Del.) May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] State Horticulturist McCue, who is connected with Delaware College Experiment Station, in Newark, Del., today announced that he has been advised of serious damage to the peach crop by the recent cold snap. The buds were well advanced throughout Delaware and the eastern shore of Maryland. The percentage of loss has not as yet been learned.

Prof. McCue has issued a statement urging the growers to save whatever yield of peaches they may have by spraying. This, he says, will prevent curculio and brown rot.

As the peach industry is now being revived in Delaware after severe ravishment by the "yellow" the damage by the cold is doubly unfortunate.

CAPT. OSBORN IS DYING.

Secretary of Arctic Club, Friend of Cook and Former Army Scout, Given Up.

[BY F. J. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 1.—Capt. Bradley S. Osborn, secretary of the Arctic Club, is dying at the Post-Graduate Hospital, where he has been a patient for ten days, suffering from a general breakdown. He is 80 years of age. Capt. Osborn was one of Dr. Cook's closest friends, and has defended the explorer staunchly and persistently against all attempts to discredit his claims. Capt. Osborn served as a scout in the Spanish-American War, and is said to have discovered Corveto's fleet off Curacao before the Spanish admiral slipped in to Santiago harbor.

BY SUMNER CURTIS.

BOSTON (Mass.) May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Taft's plurality over Roosevelt, in the primary preference vote in Massachusetts yesterday was 3,955, with the returns from one small town missing. Clark's majority over Wilson on the Democratic side and same town missing, was 19,719.

The majority for the head of the Roosevelt delegate-at-large ticket over the head of the Taft ticket was 8,037. The total vote for Roosevelt on the preference ballot is 52,241, while the head of the Roosevelt delegate ticket received 85,537. Taft's total vote on the preference vote is 87,185, while the head of the Taft delegate ticket received only 76,520 votes.

Senator La Follette received only 2,667 votes in the preference vote. It will be noted that if those who voted the preference for La Follette, marked their ballots for the Roosevelt delegates it would just about mark the difference between the Roosevelt preference and delegate votes.

In other words, the Roosevelt delegates-at-large received approximately the same vote that was cast in opposition to President Taft on the preference ballot.

THOUSANDS VITIATED BALLOTS. Nothing more is needed to show that the reason the Taft delegate ticket was defeated was because some 10,000 electors who favored Taft vitiating their ballots through error, by marking more than the eight candidates to be chosen.

The second day's sensation following the immensely important Massachusetts primary vote was the proposition that Roosevelt at Oyster Bay practically demanding that the delegates-at-large pledge to him vote for President Taft in the national convention. It was expected that Roosevelt would do this very thing in the event the delegates pledged to him were elected at the time President Taft received a majority of the preference vote.

But there still are complications of a most serious character affecting the situation. It is not at all certain that all the delegates-at-large legally elected will abide by the expressed wishes of Roosevelt.

Prior to the pronouncement from Oyster Bay this afternoon the Taft managers here had made arrangements to contest the election of the Roosevelt delegates. As a first step the machinery was set in motion to have a recount of the ballots for the purpose of showing that the Taft delegates would have been elected had not several thousand voters erred in their markings.

This movement was the preliminary to making a contest before the national convention at Chicago, where it was proposed to show that the Taft delegates by all right, ought to be seated, inasmuch as it was plain that the intent of a majority of the voters was to elect Roosevelt.

ONE SIGNIFICANT FACT. It is possible this contest still will be carried before the national convention. One of the most significant facts in connection with the matter is that former State Senator Selberlich, whose independent candidacy under a Taft pledge caused 10,000 electors to vote for nine instead of eight electors on the ballots, counted as legal.

In scores towns the ballots vitiating, so far as delegates were concerned as a result of the nine-man business, totaled as high as 25 per cent. of the total number of ballots cast. Singularly enough, some of the strongest of error in the votes were the cultured suburbs of Boston, where it was to be supposed every voter would act with high-browed wisdom.

In Brookline, one of the most aristocratic suburbs of Boston, 300 ballots out of about 1,500 cast were void, so far as delegates were concerned. It is estimated that the Taft leaders expended $15,000 in circulating "Warning Notices," cautioning electors to vote for only eight delegates-at-large.

All the complications aside, the outstanding fact of national importance at this hour is that Taft has carried the pivotal State of Massachusetts in the preliminary campaign contest. It has not been a decisive victory, such as the President's friends hoped the might rain—but is still a victory. It has saved Mr. Taft from elimination in the great struggle for the Presidential nomination. If he had lost here, some of his most ardent supporters would have given up the fight and conceded the nomination to Roosevelt.

VOTES WERE CLOSE.

But President Taft has kept himself in the running. He has not clinched his nomination. The result here merely has continued the fight that might otherwise have ended abruptly with these particular primaries.

As matters stood before Col. Roosevelt released the delegates elected in his name—by reason of a "joker" on the ballot—on supporting him, the Massachusetts delegation would have been split evenly between the President and his adversary. The President carried nine of the fourteen districts in the State, giving him eighteen delegates. With the eighteen district delegates he has in sight the President will have twenty-six out of Massachusetts' thirty-six votes in the national convention. If the delegates-at-large pledged to Roosevelt follow the wishes of their champion.

In some of the districts the delegate vote was so close that recounts will be demanded. The Ninth District was won by Taft by less than ten votes and a recount may change the results there. In the Eighth District the Taft delegates were elected by less than ten votes each and had a recount might throw one victory to the other side.

TAFT WON HIS OWN FIGHT.

Friends of Senator Crane, who gave ardent support to the Taft cause in the primary campaign, are not without a particular love of the President, but because they wanted to have a Senator, are the most violent of mourners developed by the loss of the Taft delegate slate. They are among the most insistent in demanding that the ballots be recounted to show how the slump occurred and that the matter then be taken before the National Committee and the national convention at Chicago. They contend that the national convention should take cognizance of the intent of the voters. They also contend that there is more involved than the vote for Presidential candidate, as with us at the good old platform to be framed for presentation to the people in November.

Observers here are agreed that had not President Taft yielded to the importunities of his friends that he appear on the stump in Massachusetts, his fight would have been lost. Some of the Taft leaders also go so far as to declare that the fight would have been lost had not Col. Roosevelt made his second appearance in the State. They say that Roosevelt's later attacks on President Taft operated to turn supporters away from him (Roosevelt) fully as much as anything. The President said in connection with his plea for "Square Deal."

HOLD A CONVENTION AFTER THE PRIMARY.

BOSTON, May 1.—After two conferences today the eight Roosevelt delegates-at-large electors at the primaries yesterday to the national convention decided not to take any joint action on the attitude adopted by Roosevelt in releasing them from obligation to vote for him, but to leave each delegate free to act as he saw fit. A statement issued late tonight by Matthew Hale, chairman of the Roosevelt committee, says:

"In view of the complicated political conditions following our State primary, I decided to call a meeting of the eight delegates-at-large to discuss the situation. I had not then heard anything about Col. Roosevelt's statement regarding the delegates-at-large. The delegates who assembled here, I believe, saw the newspaper accounts of the colonel's statement.

"With the knowledge on the part of each delegate that he had been elected fairly and squarely by a large majority over the Taft delegates, it was the unanimous opinion that they should stand together and vote for Roosevelt. Consequently a joint statement to this effect was signed by each delegate present.

Later in the day, and after carefully considering the position so far as taken by Col. Roosevelt, the situation was again talked over with the delegates, and they decided to take no joint action, but to rescind their agreement and leave each individual delegate free to determine for himself his responsibility to his constituents and to act accordingly."

GUARD AGAINST ENCROACHMENT.

President's Message on Magdalena Bay Starts Debate.

Senators Declare Japan Must Not Be Given a Foothold.

President Finds No Grounds for American Complaint.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The United States should either enforce the Monroe Doctrine, or should formulate a new one broad enough to prevent Japanese commercial interests from securing control of territory about Magdalena Bay, in the opinion of Senators Lodge, Bacon and other members of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate.

In a debate today following the receipt of President Taft's message transmitting the correspondence covering Japanese activity in Western Mexico, leading members of the Senate declared the possession of a strategic position, even by commercial interests wholly Japanese in character, could not be permitted without menacing the safety of the United States.

The Magdalena Bay papers were returned to the Senate office, which is expected to consider the case with a view to outlining the attitude of the United States on the subject of the acquisition of land on this hemisphere by foreign nations or by their subjects.

The President's message was in response to a Senate resolution calling for information regarding an alleged purchase of land at Magdalena Bay by the Japanese government or by a Japanese company.

With his brief message the President transmitted a full report from Secretary of State Knox.

There is nothing on file in the Department of State, said the secretary, "that has justified an inference that Mexican government or the Imperial Japanese government has been occupying any disposition of land near Magdalena Bay by which the latter government would acquire land there for any purpose."

In these circumstances the Department of State felt no necessity for further steps in the matter of any of the rumors, which are of a kind that all too frequently occur to the detriment of public opinion in the respective countries.

Mr. Knox said the Japanese government had apprised his government of the rumors in question which had come to his attention through public press, and subsequently the Ambassador made, with his government's authorization, an unreserved and categorical denial of the rumored purchase of land by the Japanese government or by a Japanese company.

Secretary Knox said the rumors regarding a Japanese purchase evidently arose from efforts by the American syndicate, according to the report of the Japanese government, to acquire a tract of land near Magdalena Bay, this being the purpose of the syndicate.

The syndicate, according to the report of the Japanese government, was headed by a man named H. H. Kato, who was said to be a Japanese capitalist who would not care to consummate the purchase without the approval of the Japanese government and that the latter would not give its approval unless assured that the transaction would be unobjectionable to the United States.

The Department of State made it plain to the American syndicate that such a transfer of lands in a manner to cause a syndicate to acquire a result would be so obvious a cause of regret to the government of the United States that it would cause unnecessary further to comment on the disposition of the Federal government in the premises.

The American syndicate, it appears, then sought to ascertain the attitude of the American government toward a company composed of Japanese and American investors, retaining control of the property. To this proposition the department replied that it could make nothing of the former statement. Since this reply the files of the department disclose no further communication with the Americans interested in the lands.

Under these circumstances Secretary Knox declared: "The department cannot assume that there is any project on foot calling for action on the part of the United States."

The message precipitated a debate in the Senate. Senators Bacon and Lodge concurred with the president's statement. The latter did not cover the situation a new doctrine covering it could be created.

Explaining his reasons for calling for the correspondence, Mr. Lodge said it was to prevent the development of any embarrassing situation with reference to Mexico and Japan. He said the time had come when the United States should take the position that neither directly nor indirectly could any foreign government obtain control of land in this hemisphere that might constitute a menace to the United States.

Senator Rayner said that if Japan established a base of supplies or coaling stations in Mexico he would regard the act as a declaration of war.

ARGUE PLACE OF TRIAL.

Solicitor-General Argues to Supreme Court That the Government May Elect Where to Prosecute Cases.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The government's right to prosecute conspiracy in State removed from where the acts complained of were committed was argued before the Supreme Court today in the case of Frederick A. Hyde and J. H. Schneider of California and Frank W. Brown and E. Moore of Nebraska.

Hyde and Schneider were tried in Washington for an alleged attempt to defraud the government of western lands. Brown and Moore were indicted in Nebraska for a scheme to use the mails for defrauding the government. The government has discretion as to the jurisdiction in which it would try the accused. An array of counsel contended that the trial could only be in the States where the overt acts were committed.

DAWSON HOLDS ELECTION.

Members Are Chosen to Represent Various Districts in Legislature of Yukon Territory.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Dawson (Y.T.) May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The following were elected members of the Yukon Legislature or Council at Monday's election.

White Horse district—W. L. Phelps, lawyer; Capt. Martin, trader.

North Dawson—C. W. C. Tabor, lawyer; Alaric Joseph Seguin, merchant.

South Dawson—Dr. Alexander Gillespie, dentist; Isaac Lusk, freighter.

Klondike district is in doubt, with Archie Martin, Eugene Hogan and Robert Boif Robertson probably the strongest. Two out of three are to be elected.

Roman District is also in doubt. It looks as if Richard Gillespie and Duncan Robertson are winners.

Yukon navigation opened yesterday, the earliest on record. At 11 o'clock Monday morning the Chena River began running clear of ice in front of Fairbanks, being the earliest break-up known.

For the first time since the founding of Fairbanks the breaking of the ice failed to destroy the bridge which spans the river there. The bridge is exceptionally low. The Northern Navigation Company's steamboat left Fairbanks last night for the Yukon River with mail from the outside.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Kurds, Turks and Arabs continue to concentrate on the Persian-Turkish-Russian frontier. Dispatches to the Petersburg telegraph agency, which is under the control of the Minister of the Interior, state that local observers estimate the number of armed men mobilized at 100,000, and that a substantial part of this multitude is composed of regular troops.

The Turks have compelled all the Kurdish and Arab tribes, such as the Mamish, Mongur and Piron, to furnish 3000 equipped soldiers each. The Persian correspondents of the telegraph agency, especially the one in Tabriz, say that developments on the Turkish side are due to Russia's persistence in increasing the number of troops near Persia and along the frontier. The Turks are represented as spreading the report among the Kurds that a war with Russia is imminent.

These dispatches are causing acute uneasiness, since they are permitted by the Minister of the Interior to be made public by the press, and either from Russian consuls or consular employees.

GIRL KIDNAPED
BY THREE MEN.

Screaming They Threaten to Cut Her Heart Out.

Amazing Phase of Modern Life in Windy City.

University Professor Gives Details of the Crime.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A discovery was made today that Amelia Neumann, a 19-year-old maid in the employ of Prof. H.
Boynton, acting dean of the Junior College, University of Chicago, was kidnaped by three men in an automobile, at Kinross avenue and the Midway Plaisance, Tuesday night, April 23, under circumstances similar to those that surrounded the kidnaping and robbery of Miss Margaret Gorecki, covered at the university, last Monday morning.

"Our maid was walking on the Midway at Kinross avenue about 8 o'clock, when three men passing in the street stopped their machine, sprang out and lifted her into the car," said Mrs. Boynton today. "As in Miss Gorecki's case, they drove to Jackson Park. The girl struggled to free herself and threatened to break a window in the car if they refused to release her. One of the men drew a knife and threatened to cut her heart out if she did not remain quiet. They finally dropped her in Jackson Park.
She tore her dress badly in jumping from the car and passed by in an electric car, noting her condition, brought her back to Fifty-seventh street and Monroe avenue from which corner she started home."

"The strange feature in Miss Neumann's case was that she was turned the corner of Fifty-seventh and Monroe streets, one of the men who had been in the trio who kidnaped her again faced her and snatched her mesh purse."

"The maid, who was now almost overcome with fright, sought refuge in the doorway of an apartment building nearby. The residents of the building brought her home, and she it quite likely that it was the same group which held up Miss Gorecki
Monday morning."

TO RESTORE HIS MEMORY.
Man Who Claims He Is Missing Banker Undergoes Trephining Operation in Chicago Hospital.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, May 1.—[Exclusive
Dispatch.] Medical science and skill were put to a severe test in a case of wits and identity which has raised in the efforts of George A. Kimmel, known as Andrew J. White, to establish his claim as the lost son of Niles, Kimmel, formerly of Chicago.

"Kimmel," the supposed claimant, was operated on today by Dr. Loren J. Wilder at the Robert Burns Hospital, in an effort to relieve a depression in the skull of the patient, and which it is claimed, has impeded his memory.

Dr. Wilder, who has made a special study of brain diseases, said today that he had undertaken the operation because of the fact that he believed in the truthfulness of Kim-mel's statements and that he was anxious to restore his memory so that he could set himself right with his relative and friends.

"The operation, of course, is very difficult," said he. "But I have through the means of X-ray pictures, located the obstruction just at the base of the skull. I reached the obstruction through the use of an electric drill."

The operation was offered as the last resort for restoring the past to this man of mystery who for months has been steadily making his way as that of George A. Kimmel, former cashier of the Farmers' State Bank of Arkansas City, and who disappeared from that place in 1888.

IMPERIAL VALLEY LANDS.
Text of the Raker Bill to Exchange Them for Other Acres in the Public Domain.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is proposed by a bill which Congressman Raker introduced to allow the State of California to exchange lands granted to it in the Imperial Valley for other public lands. As this bill seems to be of considerable public interest, the text of it is given here in full. It is as follows: (H. R. 2257.)

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the State of California, as the greatest need, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, convey to the United States any of the lands heretofore granted to said State in the townships authorized to be surveyed by the act of July first, nineteen hundred and two (Thirty-second Statutes at Large, page seven hundred and twenty-eight), and select in lieu thereof an equal amount of vacant, unappropriated, surveyed, unreserved, non-mineral public lands within said State; provided, That any application to select land under this act must be presented within three years from the date of its passage.

Sec. 2. That the Secretary of the Interior may make proper rules and regulations for carrying this act into effect.

RUSSIA WON'T TAKE PART.
Announcement Is Unofficial, However, as Invitation to the Panama-Pacific Has Not Been Received.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. PETERSBURG, May 1.—The Department for Expositions of the Russian government has declined to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco.
The latest query was from the Austrian embassy. In reply it was said it was not the purpose of the Russian government to participate. It was, however, added that this was in no sense a decision, as no official invitation for such participation had been received.

ELDERLY FOLKS! CALOMEL, SALTS AND CATHARTICS AREN'T FOR YOU.

Harmless, Gentle "Syrup of Figs" is Best To Cleanse Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Decaying Food, Gases and Clogged-up Waste.

You old people, Syrup of Figs is particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to; who like the easy chair. You, whose steps are slow and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your liver and ten yards of bowels have also become less active.

Don't regard Syrup of Figs as physic. It stimulates the liver and bowels just as exercise would do if you took enough of it. It is not harsh like salts or cathartics. The help which Syrup of Figs gives to a torpid liver and weak, sluggish bowels is harmless, natural and gentle.

When eyes grow dim, you help them. Do the same with your liver and bowels when age makes them less active. There is nothing more important. Constipated, clogged-up bowels mean that decaying, fermenting food is clogged there and the pores or ducts in these thirty feet of bowels suck this decaying waste and poisons into the blood. You will never get feeling right until this is corrected —but do it gently. Don't have a bowel washday; don't use a bowel irritant. For your sake, please use only gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Then you are not drugging yourself, for Syrup of Figs is composed of only luscious figs, senna, and aromatics which cannot injure.

A teaspoonful tonight will gently but thoroughly move on and out of your system by morning all the sour bile, poisonous fermenting food and clogged-up waste matter without gripes, nausea or weakness.

But get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup unless it bears the name—prepared by the California Fig Syrup Company.
Read the label.

WEDS DAUGHTER OF CONGRESSMAN

MASON AND BRIDE TO LIVE IN BAKERSFIELD.

Nuptial Ceremony in the National Capital Witnessed Only by Few Friends and Relatives Owing to Illness of the Representative from the Eighth District.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Owing to the illness of S.
C. Smith of Bakersfield, Representative in Congress from the Eighth California District, the wedding of his second daughter, Miss Little Dorritt Smith, was solemnized in the presence of a few intimate friends of the family. "Little Dorritt" is in commemoration of family reading Dickens, and was the childish fancy of an elder sister.

The double ring ceremony was used.
W. Mason of Bakersfield took place at noon today at the residence of Mr.
and Mrs. Smith in Washington. The Rev. Samuel Woodrow, of the First Congregational Church, officiated. The only attendant was little Nathalie Needham, the charming young daughter of Representative and Mrs. Needham, who was ring bearer.

The double ring ceremony was used.
Congressman Smith gave his daughter away. The bride was robed in white liberty satin gown with a white brocade train. The corsage was trimmed with white Irish linen and pearl embroidery. The white tulle veil fell from the bride's head from beneath the confining clasp of a little pearl Juliet cap. Her only ornament was a beautiful lavalliere of diamonds, a gift from the groom to the bride.

The pastors of the house were decorated in greens and white carnations in the gallery who appeared particularly concerned with what was passing on the floor.

Even yesterday's oratorical performance of "In which" Winston Churchill, who is rated as the most brilliant of the younger politicians in either party, was the speaker, created hardly any enthusiasm. No more remarkable contrast than was presented by this exhibition and the fierce battles over the two other home rule bills,
when statesmen like Gladstone,
Farnell, Chamberlain and Harrington
ought bitterly every inch of ground.

The ground, and racial and party passions were stirred to the depths, could be concealed.

An attempt to regulate the production of the second group, which manufactures steel bars, plates, tubing
and wirestock, which the syndicate formerly controlled by restricting the quotas of raw material to be used at each factory, was abandoned and a price war is expected at the end of the current night. The agreement formally expired at midnight, but the members disregarded the clock and early today had succeeded in preventing a steel war, though only among the first group comprising manufacturers of rails, ties, structural steel and half rolled steel.

Both the Western and the Central Passenger Associations announced
some time ago that the rates to all conventions would be fixed on the basis of 2 cents. It is regarded as certain that the two national political gatherings will not be considered as exceptions.

A number of State fairs and expositions also will be considered tomorrow in regard to rate-making. It is expected that a fare of 2 cents a mile in each direction will be accorded all applicants. It is said to be unlikely that a proposition to reduce home-seekers' fares to second-class will be approved.

It is not believed that the annual summer meeting of the association will be held this year at Mackinac Island.

Representatives from India Temple
to the Imperial Council are Jack
Jones, G. W. Clark, G. C. Heyman
and Edwin DeBar.

BRINGS ON A CONTEST.
SEATTLE (Wash.) May 1.—The King County Democratic Convention,
composed of delegates elected at the

This received with shouts of approbation, the opposition, which prolonged legislation over a period of two years, which postpones the critical stage of the measure.

Another is the opposition to the bill which, except on the part of representatives of Ulster, is generally viewed with favor. The speaker practically confessed himself bored and remarked:

"I am sure that the house would rather hear three speeches of twenty minutes each than one of sixty minutes."

The Right Hon. J. E. B. Seley,
Parliamentary Secretary of the War Office, said those who doubted the sincerity of Irishmen who they claimed they would carry out the act honorably and fairly were the same persons who doubted the good faith of the Boers when the South African Union act was introduced.

"You were wrong then," he added,
addressing the opposition, "and you now admit. Are you going to be so mad as to repeat your error? The Irish people have shown as a whole
that they are the last people to break their pledge or word, and we are right in trusting the responsible leaders of the great majority of Irishmen."

William O'Brien, leader of the independent nationalists, said the bill was one which all sections of Irishmen could unite in supporting on its fundamental structure and principles,
but it would be arrant humbug to pretend that it settled anything except reconciliation between the two countries. However, the fact that the bill was elastic and experimental and that it could be improved in accordance with the lessons of experience, was a recommendation in its favor. Divisions in the ranks of the nationalists, he added, could be regarded as a good augury for the future, because those associated with him would form a firm of healthy opposition in the new Irish parliament.

Mr. O'Brien criticized the financial provisions in the bill, which he hoped would be amended in the committee stage.

Lord Claude Hamilton, Unionist, made a bellicose speech against the bill, declaring that if it passed, he and his brother would take their stand with the people of Ulster.

"It would only have to go to the quayside in Liverpool and call for volunteers," he said, "who get thousands of men ready to go and success their brethren in Ulster."

Speaker Tells Commons They Are to Be Relied Upon.

London Comments on Lack of Interest in Measure.

Opposition Is Lukewarm Except in North Ireland.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, May 1.—No great political project was ever debated in the House of Commons. A serious display of interest on the part of members and the general house than the home rule bill today.

The speeches were delivered to a half-empty house. A few Irish priests were the only spectators in the gallery who appeared particularly concerned with what was passing on
the floor.

Even yesterday's oratorical performance of "In which" Winston Churchill, who is rated as the most brilliant of the younger politicians in either party, was the speaker, created hardly any enthusiasm. No more remarkable contrast than was presented by this exhibition and the fierce battles over the two other home rule bills,
when statesmen like Gladstone,
Farnell, Chamberlain and Harrington
ought bitterly every inch of ground.

The ground, and racial and party passions
were stirred to the depths, could be concealed.

An attempt to regulate the production of the second group, which manufactures steel bars, plates, tubing
and wirestock, which the syndicate
formerly controlled by restricting
the quotas of raw material to be used
at each factory, was abandoned and
a price war is expected at the end of the current night. The agreement formally expired at midnight, but the members disregarded the clock and
early today had succeeded in preventing a steel war, though only
among the first group comprising
manufacturers of rails, ties, structural steel and half rolled steel.

Both the Western and the Central
Passenger Associations announced
some time ago that the rates to all conventions would be fixed on the basis of 2 cents. It is regarded as certain that the two national political gatherings will not be considered as exceptions.

A number of State fairs and expositions also will be considered tomorrow in regard to rate-making. It is expected that a fare of 2 cents a mile
in each direction will be accorded all applicants. It is said to be unlikely that a proposition to reduce home-seekers' fares to second-class will be approved.

It is not believed that the annual summer meeting of the association will be held this year at Mackinac Island.

Representatives from India Temple
to the Imperial Council are Jack
Jones, G. W. Clark, G. C. Heyman
and Edwin DeBar.

BRINGS ON A CONTEST.
SEATTLE (Wash.) May 1.—The King County Democratic Convention,
composed of delegates elected at the

This received with shouts of approbation, the opposition, which prolonged legislation over a period of
two years, which postpones the critical stage of the measure.

Another is the opposition to the bill which, except on the part of representatives of Ulster, is generally viewed with favor. The speaker practically confessed himself bored and
remarked:

"I am sure that the house would rather hear three speeches of twenty minutes each than one of sixty minutes."

The Right Hon. J. E. B. Seley,
Parliamentary Secretary of the War Office, said those who doubted the sincerity of Irishmen who they claimed they would carry out the act
honorably and fairly were the same persons who doubted the good faith of the Boers when the South African Union act was introduced.

"You were wrong then," he added,
addressing the opposition, "and you
now admit. Are you going to be so mad as to repeat your error? The Irish people have shown as a whole
that they are the last people to break
their pledge or word, and we are right
in trusting the responsible leaders of the great majority of Irishmen."

William O'Brien, leader of the independent nationalists, said the bill
was one which all sections of Irishmen could unite in supporting on its fundamental structure and principles,
but it would be arrant humbug to pretend that it settled anything except reconciliation between the two countries. However, the fact that the bill was elastic and experimental and that it could be improved in accordance with the lessons of experience, was a recommendation in its favor. Divisions
in the ranks of the nationalists, he added, could be regarded as a good augury for the future, because those associated with him would form a firm of healthy opposition in the new Irish parliament.

Mr. O'Brien criticized the financial provisions in the bill, which he hoped would be amended in the committee
stage.

Lord Claude Hamilton, Unionist,
made a bellicose speech against the bill, declaring that if it passed, he
and his brother would take their stand with the people of Ulster.

MAKING RECORDS

(FIFTEEN HUNDRED SHAREHOLDERS IN SEVENTY-ONE DAYS)

Investors are buying our shares in a manner never before equaled in the history of home-building companies.

The first buyers were those who knew the management and the men back of the Company.

The next buyers were those keen observers who are quick to recognize the earmarks of success.

Then come the watchful ones who had been looking for the successful launching of their kind of a company.

Next come the safe buyers who have waited until absolutely sure all starting risks (if any) are past.

The spirit back of each individual's act is not to buy a six or eight per cent possibility.

It is to buy a possible twenty to thirty per cent income with a practical certainty of at least twelve per cent.

It is to buy something that will double, treble and quadruple in value.

It is to get in at the beginning in what they know is right.

This is still the beginning. No young company has ever made such records for sound progress.

Our fifteen hundred shareholders will soon be two thousand.

You miss a real chance if you are not among them.

The following table shows how little or how much it takes.

No interest is charged on deferred payments.

You can stop any time you want to, and take full paid shares for every cent you have paid in—that is, if you want to. We do not think you will.

Shares will soon be twenty-five cents.

New Black Silk Coats

$30.00, $32.50, $35.00, $39.50

Another lot of those ultra-fashionable Black Silk Coats came yesterday, and, if anything, they are prettier and better values than any we've seen this season. It is the general opinion of correct dressers that no woman's wardrobe is quite complete this spring without a Black Silk Coat. These are the last word in Coats.

HANDSOME Long Coats of taffeta, satin, bengaline or ottoman, with colored messaline lining of every hue; braid or handsome lace decorations, or both. Splendid specimens at $30, $32.50, $35.00, $39.50 and up to $100.00.

—Second Floor—

$4.00 Blankets $2.95

Double bed size Light Gray Wool Blankets, with fancy colored borders. They are good Blankets, too. Good enough to bring four dollars anywhere—anytime. Thursday, Friday and Saturday they go for $2.95.

Seasonable Union Suits

At 50c and 75c

You must not judge these Union Suits by the prices we've given them. That would not be doing them justice. They are a good deal better than the price would indicate—better, we think, than any you ever saw at these figures.

CRESTWOOD UNION SUITS of nice fine cotton, in weights for present wear. High neck and long sleeves, ankle length; high neck and short sleeves, knee length, or low neck, sleeveless, knee length.

MERODE UNION SUITS, made of fine selected cotton, perfect fitting, in all styles mentioned above. At each price we show both regular and out sizes.

Kranich & Bach

The Piano With the "Harplike" Tone.

The wonderful tonal results achieved by these famous old makers are evidenced in every Kranich & Bach instrument produced—Piano and Player Piano alike. Every detail of construction in these instruments is under the personal supervision of the Kranich & Bach family—thus their product is a work of art, not merely a commercial undertaking.

Grands, Uprights, Players $525 Up
Terms of $10 and Up Monthly

Slightly used Players, $250, $275, $300 and up. Pay $8 or $10 monthly.

Kranich & Bach Uprights have the violin principle of stringing and largest Sounding Board used in any Upright Piano. This accounts for their wonderful "harplike" tone. The Grands have the isotonic Pedal, a feature especially appreciated by musicians. The Players are built complete by this one company, thus retaining the Kranich & Bach individuality and superb tonal quality.

WAVES OF JOY SWEEP FROM CITY TO SEA.

They Travel by Auto and They Come Back Again on the Happy May Day While Fifteen Hundred Orphans and Unfortunates Are Shown Life's Brighter Side—Glorious Success.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

MAY DAY AND A JOY RIDE! Bright sunlight, a racing breeze, a handsome grand-marshal, and a lovely little May Queen throwing kisses to all. A serpentine line of autos a mile long, winding its way to the sea.

And 1500 poor kiddies giving their inspiring yell—
"Rah-rah rah-rah! Who are we?
May-Day Joy Riders, Gee-gee-gee!"

What happier, sweeter sight would you wish to see?

Never was a madder, merrier May Day for such a horde of Angeleno youngsters—the children of the poor who needed such a day so much.

Barney Oldfield gallantly "held the bridge" out at Crenshaw boulevard, and flagged all interurban cars until every auto-load had safely passed, and down at Venice the pop-corn motor wasn't swift enough for Barney in grinding out crisp goodies for the kids he had in tow.

G. L. Smith's big National fifty made 45 miles an hour, in order to take the despatcher down to Venice ahead of the procession, and did it too.

The ocean was among those present at Venice, but nobody paid much atnally red I think we will not procrastinate, but will go to the merry-come-round," which they speedily did.

"We'll do anything once," announced a small sport, and in went a crowd of small Americans.

Bouquets of little girls, in gay ribbons, rode and re-rode on the rapids, which were scored by the holder male spirits, who preferred the bad rolle-coaster and wild race for life.

LITTLE QUEEN IN IT.

And Rosie, the May Queen, went in for everything like the little thorough-bred she is. Hugging tight to her the beautiful doll which Phyllis Hammel had given her, she rode on the merry-go-round, and the rolle-coaster and the rapids, and though she was a little pale when the big Grand Marshal lifted her into her car, she never uttered a moan, but ordered her driver, with quaint imperiousness, to start the machine, when her little royal highness felt it was time to go home.

The little invalids, Glen and Joe, where there. Indeed, their nurse informed her that they had been calling to her at 2 o'clock in the morning, to "please come and get them ready to go."

Mobilization at San Diego to Rant and Revile.

"Move on," was the stern command of the police to the ninety-three anarchists who marched under the red I.W.W. flag to this city from the north yesterday.

The unwashed tramps assert they are the advance guard of an army of 3000 members of the I.W.W. Work band who are marching, a lawless throng, on San Diego, from many parts of the West and Middle West. Determined to make Los Angeles an unhealthy place for their ilk, the police have planned vigorous measures to prevent their congregating in this city.

Advised of their arrival, Capt. Murray posted orders to all patrolmen yesterday to keep the members of the band on the move and arrest all who were caught begging, or speaking on streets outside the zone selected for that purpose.

The "hall" of the I.W.W.'s, at No. 731 San Pedro street, an unused Annual Inspection of the Force a Magnificent Exhibition of Skillful Maneuvering—All Departments Participate in Intricate Drills While City Officials Applaud—Terrible "Hollow Square" a Success.

FIVE thousand persons witnessed the annual inspection of the Los Angeles Police Department at Fiesta Park yesterday afternoon, enthusiastically applauding the 275 men—over half the force—as they marched and counter-marched with military precision through intricate formations and maneuvers.

Mayor Alexander, members of the Police Commission and scores of other city officials and National Guard officers were present and expressed themselves as more than delighted with the magnificent showing of Chief Sebastian's men.

The police presented an inspiring sight in their brand new spring uniforms of olive drab, brightened by brass buttons and gold lace and tan shoes.

Every branch of the police department participated in the grand review from the motorcycle officers and mounted squad down to the men who walk the streets.

Under the direction of Capt. C. G. Lehnhausen, department drillmaster, and other officers, the men went smoothly through difficult formations of hollow squares, company and battalion movements and evolutions demonstrating the handling of every emergency, even to imaginary attacks upon rioting mobs.

The spectators were thrilled by the lightning dashes of the police auto-patrols and ambulances, mounted squad dashes and motorcycles skimming over the rough ground at fifty miles an hour in pursuit of imaginary speed maniacs.

LIKE AN ARMORY.
The command was divided into a battalion of six companies or platoons, of thirty-eight men each, each company under a lieutenant or sergeant.

Drillmaster Lehnhausen, mounted on a great black horse, was assisted in handling the battalion by Acting Sergeant Hackett. Chief Sebastian did not take an active part in the inspection but remained with the Mayor and Police Commissioners Akey and McDill.

The big field was cleared promptly at 2 o'clock and made ready for the maneuvers. A few moments later the Royal Marine band, swung into a martial air and ten members of the mounted squad on prancing black horses dashed on the field through the southern gateway and raced down the field, taking a position at the extreme northern end.

Then the spectators heard the familiar clang of the auto patrol and two freshly painted police automobiles poked their hoods through the entrance and whirled down the field with gongs going like mad.

A moment later the big enclosure was alive with motorcycle officers on sputtering machines. Then followed four emergency autos carrying plainclothes men.

Then came the first company of patrolmen in column of fours, commanded by Lieut. Krieger, followed by five other platoons. The second company was commanded by Lieut. Heath; third, Lieut. Adams; fourth, Lieut. Spelman; fifth, Sergt. Johnson; sixth by Sergt. Graham.

THE CAMERA'S CROP.
A horde of motion picture photographers snapped the members as they marched on the field and caught the lightning dashes of the auto patrol, mounted squad and motorcycle flying squadrons as they maneuvered about the field. The winking cameras captured the Mayor, Chief Sebastian, members of the Police Commission and city officials, even the wives, sweethearts and friends of the marching policemen.

After putting his men through a series of drills and military formations, Capt. Lehnhausen prepared the battalion for the formal annual inspection by Chief Sebastian. Mayor Alexander and the two Police Commissioners, Captains William Murray and Robert Haupt escorted Commissioners McDill and Akey during the inspection.

After the formal inspection Capt. Lehnhausen put his battalion through several intricate military evolutions, which elicited great applause from the sightseers. The men marched in perfect alignment and looked and acted like West Pointers on dress parade. They went through the drills and without a hitch and the force—or part of it—never appeared to better advantage.

An imaginary attack upon a rioting mob was enacted in the center of tention to it except the little class from Amelia, which viewed the sea for the first time. S. C. Bowman had taken twenty-one of them down in his eight-passenger car—Japs, Russians, Mexicans, Italians—and now they sat in a semicircle in the sand, and looked at the sea as if it were the theater, and gave an imitation of the tower of Babel.

"My, my, the big bath!" cried a little Italian.

Just then somebody shouted a Mexican baby had fallen asleep and was being washed away. Everybody swooped to the rescue.

GENEROUS VENICE.
It was bargain-day on the Midway—half-price for Hades, and the rapids free, and the merchants of Venice belied a traditional reputation, and donated pounds and pounds of popcorn and peanuts.

They overflowed the merry-go-round, they wore out their little troupers on the bump-the-bumps, they wowed, they had, the Ferris wheel perform fifty revolutions a minute to keep up with their eager joy; Merryland, with its mysterious thunders, "as dark as the inside of an inn" in some places, called to them eerily and the wild auto-race worked over-time.

A class of little Japs stood around huddled with its dancing skeleton and its red-devils, and it evidently looked to them a bit too much like the pictures of some of their traditional "bad places."

"I have here discovered hades" said one primly, "but it is too much infellucky to go back in memory to old circus days, and took them about buying everything that was not free. They let the youngsters do as they pleased with their machines. We remonstrated with one gentleman when five small boys were swinging their legs over the back of his car, marring it sadly.

"Oh, let them kick it!" he answered good naturedly. "I can have it painted."

Mrs. John Mitchell, whose handsome blouse was decorated with great festoons of roses, took a crowd of little girls from the Los Angeles Orphan Home and gave them a delightful time among the joys of Venice.

AFRAID OF AUTO BITE.

One small boy was found weeping back of the bath-house. It came out on questioning that he had never been in an auto before, and thought she was going to bite him every time she wheezed. "Tear-stained and dirty, he was put aboard a car and started for home, blissfully sucking a stick of candy."

Mrs. E. T. Closserman of Venice was looking about with the kindly intention of keeping an orphan for a week down at her home-by-the-sea, if she could find one. She was looking over a group of assorted orphans when we left, and I believe the small blonde boy with dimples won the prize.

There was free lemonade for all, and over by the lemonade table a

INVESTIGATION PRECIPITATED BY A TELEGRAM.

Greatly Resembled Each Other in Life and Were Supposedly Positively Identified Before Burial. Yet Police Are Lead to Suspect Strange Hoax.

The identity of two men who greatly resembled each other in life, and who were supposedly positively identified before they were buried in local cemeteries a few days ago, has been questioned by Mrs. J. C. Rose.

A telegram received by the police shows that she thinks the body of George Carstens, or George Constans, interred in Forest Lawn Cemetery, in Wade Hamilton, late of Hutchinson, Kan., where she lives.

The police, after a brief investigation, are beginning to believe that the body supposed to be that of William S. Barclay, late of Denver, who named Newark as his home, and who is re-

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Police Commission yesterday instructed the City Prosecutor and chief of police to draft an ordinance making it a cause for the revocation of saloon licenses for saloon men to buy goods or lend money on their places of business. Saloon men were warned that they must help the police to prevent crime and to apprehend criminals.

The Public Utilities Board failed to fix telephone rates yesterday, although it struggled with the subject all day. A conference will be held with the Mayor and other city officials today.

Chief Inspector of Buildings Backus yesterday recommended to the Board of Public Works that members of the proposed committee to revise the building ordinances be paid $500 each for their services. He estimates the total cost of this revision at from $8000 to $10,000.

Oil Inspector Blackmar announced yesterday that he is preparing an ordinance to control the laying of oil pipe lines within the city.

The Chief of Police yesterday got the endorsement of the Police Commission to twenty-five emergency appointments of old members of the department, who the Civil Service Commission decides must take the regular examinations.

A question involving a point of law, which has no precedent in this state, is a matter now before the Superior Court judges to solve in an estate settlement case.

MUST KEEP TAB ON HARD CASES.

BALCON MEN ARE REQUIRED TO HELP THE POLICE.

Mayor and Police Commission members yesterday agreed that saloonkeepers will be required to keep a record of all persons who enter their places of business, and that suspicious characters must be reported.

"I stand ready to promptly revoke the license of any saloon-keeper or poolroom man who allows his place to be used as a headquarters for criminals or suspicious characters," declared the Mayor yesterday at the meeting of the Police Commission.

"Not only that, but I insist that we should and must require the saloonkeepers to co-operate with the police in keeping tabs on the movements of criminal characters in this city. The saloons are responsible for a large amount of the crime in this city, and must use every effort to aid the police in these matters."

These views were endorsed by other members of the commission. The chief declared that there are certain saloons in this city that have made it a practice of harboring questionable characters and criminals and aiding them to all the police in their surveillance. He has these places under watch and with the attitude of the Police Commission clearly expressed, it is probable that some of these places will be brought up with a view to their closure.

These expressions of the Mayor and commissioners were brought out by the calling up of the charges against Mike Block, a 111-year-old man, 431 Front street, San Pedro. The original charge against Block was the buying of stolen property, but yesterday further charges were made regarding the failure of Block and his henchmen to aid the police or even call help by telephone when L.W.W. riot broke out in front of Block's place and an officer was forced into the saloon by a mob of men and finally had to let the man go, while he sought help.

Because of the new charges filed, the case of Block was continued until the 14th inst., and at that time he must show cause why his saloon license should not be revoked.

At this session also the case against E. T. Troxler, who has a saloon at No. 485 Front street, came up for hearing. Troxler was charged with loaning money on goods and charging for the service, which is distinctly against the policy outlined for saloon men by the commission. The defense made was that in the case cited what appeared to be a charge of 15 cents made on a dollar loan on a suitcase was really a memorandum of money for drinks given the man to whom the loan was made. As contrary evidence could not be produced, Troxler was given a lecture on the proprieties of saloon-keeping and his case was taken under advisement. He made solemn promises for the future good conduct of his case.

The commission instructed Chief Sebastian and City Prosecutor Eddy to co-operate in the preparation of an ordinance making it a cause for revocation of licenses for saloonkeepers or their employees to buy second-hand goods or loan money on them.

NOT YET FIXED.

After struggling all day yesterday with the matter of fixing the telephone rates, the Board of Public Utilities adjourned last evening without having arrived at a decision. A. B. Chas, president of the Home Telephone Company, was in conference with the board for some time yesterday afternoon. It is understood that the board will hold a conference today with the Mayor and other city officials in order to get upon a basis of agreement to be maintained after the rates are fixed. A member of the board stated yesterday that it might require even more time than today, to finally fix upon the rates for the Sunset and Home companies for the ensuing year.

SALARY RECOMMENDATION.

In response to a request from the Board of Public Works, Chief of Inspector of Buildings Backus yesterday sent to the board a communication outlining his ideas in regard to remuneration to be paid members of the proposed commission to revise the city's building ordinances. Backus recommended that the members should be paid $500 each and estimates that the cost of this revision would be from $8000 to $10,000. He estimates that the incidental expenses of the commission could be made within six months after its adoption unless the amendments cover matters of imperative necessity for the public health or welfare.

In addition to the names he suggested in his original communication, yesterday suggested the name of C. D. Houghton of the City Engineer's office.

In reference to the personnel of the commission, Chief Inspector Backus says in this communication: "This is a matter which requires much careful thought from men who have devoted the best part of their lives to the subject and business of building construction in all of its branches, and none but men who are experts in this particular line of work should have anything to do with such work."

The recommendation of Backus was referred to the City Council with the recommendation of the Board of Public Works, that its suggestions be adopted.

OIL PIPE LINES.

AN ORDINANCE PROPOSED.

C. A. Blackmar, head of the department of oil inspection, is preparing an ordinance which will soon be submitted to the City Council, regulating the laying of oil pipe lines in the city. There are now within the city more than twenty-five miles of oil pipe lines, ranging from four to ten inches. Each is laid according to its own specifications. Future pipe lines will be laid according to city plans, if this ordinance is adopted. The present lines frequently break, because of electrolysis, but under the plan will be made to avoid this trouble, and provision will also be made for the placing of gates at certain intervals so that when they supply the oil can be shut off readily and damage may be minimized.

Must Take Examination.

The Civil Service Commission has decided that certain men who have long been in the employ of the police department must take civil service examinations. Chief of Police yesterday presented twenty-five emergency appointments to cover these cases and they were approved by the Police Commission.

Church Indorses Poolroom.

Last week Percy Terry applied to the Police Commission for a permit to operate a poolroom at No. 508 East Third street. A protest was presented from the Mt. Zion Baptist Church (colored), but the permit was held over until yesterday, when a communication was presented from the church officials withdrawing their protest, and informing Terry as a business man of good character, and stating that the operation of the poolroom would not interfere with the church services. The permit was granted.

Inspecting Saloons.

A report from Sgt. J. W. R. Grogan on his inspection of the saloons of the city was presented to the Police Commission yesterday. Grogan reports that he has found saloons in good condition with the exception of some minor matters, which have been ordered to be changed, and the removal of pictures of nude figures from several places.

Must Conform to Rule.

The Board of Public Works yesterday adopted the policy of insulating the use of natural soil in street grading can only be granted when this soil conforms to the specifications of ordinance No. 88, which requires the use of decomposed gravel. The city engineers recommended this, as he pointed out that heretofore the granting of requests for the use of the soil had led to the charge of favoritism.

At the Courthouse.

UNPRECEDENTED LEGAL TANGLE.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE HAS A HARD NUT TO CRACK.

Distribution of Two Estates Is Involved by Death of Administrator of One of Them—Amendment of Law Another Complication. Points to Consider.

A question involving a point of law which has no precedent in this state, is a matter now before the Superior Court judges to solve in an estate settlement case.

Merrill A. Weil, a retired banker, died in November, 1905, leaving an estate valued at $100,000. His wife, Nancy A. Weil, died the following March, leaving no direct heirs. An administrator had been appointed, meantime, for the husband's estate, which was in process of administration.

When the wife died an administrator was appointed for her estate and this brought about a contest, Weil's administrator claiming the wife's estate as against the claims of the wife's administrator.

The case taken to the Superior Court and while it was pending the administrator of the wife's estate died and a new administrator was appointed to succeed him. Judgment was affirmed by the Superior Court and in accordance with this judgment the property was turned over to Weil's administrator.

The heirs of Weil, a brother and a sister, and the children of deceased sister, petitioned the court for a partial distribution of the property to them. Mrs. Weil's administrator, who is the wife's administrator, objects to this, and upon her death it went to her legal representatives, according to the law of distribution. The Legislature amended the law and it now provides that the widow has the right to the property reverts to the direct heirs of the husband. It is asserted it must be regarded as the estate of the widow's estate and distributed in her estate.

CANT HAVE BOTH.

TAUNTING CAUSES DIVORCE.

To have another woman steal her husband was bad enough, but to have the other woman taunt her with the telephone was the quintessence of insolence and cruelty, according to Mrs. Lou Soyester who was awarded a divorce by Judge Willis yesterday in a case against Mrs. Mildred Burge.

"I have been called to the telephone and been greeted by the voice of Mrs. Burge," Mrs. Soyester testified. "She said: 'Your husband is taking a bath; don't you want to come and rub him with alcohol?' On those occasions I have got out of bed, so crippled with grief, and I have said to myself: 'I will never see him again.'"

Each was sent to the penitentiary for ten years, Dempsey being committed to Folsom and Gleason to San Quentin. Gleason confessed to seven burglaries in Pasadena and Los Angeles. One haul netted him $100, and other $400 and considerable silverware. Dempsey likewise furnished, on the proceeds of his burglaries, they lived as tourists in a hotel at Fifth and Hope streets.

Dempsey began his life as a delivery boy in a Philadelphia grocery store. Gleason is from Stockton and was connected once with a circus.

YOUTH FAVORS THEM.

CHANCE FOR YANKEE LADS.

Two badly-scared youths stood before Judge McCormick yesterday to answer charges of robbing a man named Frank and Roy Yanes, charged with the slaying of their father, George Yanes, at Compton, April 1. On account of their youth, Frank and Roy, 13 and 14, thought they would be certified to the Juvenile Court.

The lads were before Judge Wilbur shortly after their arrest, but at that time he declined to take them out of the jurisdiction of the Superior Court. He said, however, that if the court so desired, they might be returned to the Juvenile Court. The application was granted by Attorney Perkins, representing the accused.

STOCKHOLDERS' SCRAP.

RESTRAINING ORDER ISSUED.

A temporary injunction and an order to show cause were issued by Judge Willis yesterday returnable in Department Ten next Wednesday, on the application of the Southern California Securities Corporation to restrain the stockholders of the National Electric Crematory Company from voting 5500 shares of stock transferred to J. E. Young, secretary.

Suit was filed yesterday by the Securities Corporation against the Crematory company in which it is alleged Young refused to call the regular annual meeting of the company March 4, because at the time the corporation held a majority of the stock.

Later, it is alleged, 2500 shares of the stock were transferred to Young in lieu of $1500 for services which ousted the corporation from the control of the board of directors. It is now sought to have the court declare the election of Young, Hugo Schroeder, J. A. Farnsworth, W. S. Allen and Louis Young, illegal.

It is asked that an election be ordered and that the stock held by Young, Farnsworth, E. P. Ziesler and J. R. Fots be transferred.

HER AIR NOT GOOD.

MISERS HUSBAND, HITS SON.

A husband who criticizes his wife for indulging in drink should be free from the evil himself, Judge Monroe remarked yesterday in denying James Heath, a divorce on the ground of cruelty. The testimony showed that Mrs. Heath indulged occasionally, but that Heath also became intoxicated. When Heath's lawyer sought to introduce the testimony of the young couple's 5-year-old boy, the court declared that to allow the innocent child to go on the stand and testify against his mother would be cruel.

The frailties of the mother-in-law was pleasing to the court. She admitted both were to blame. They quarreled frequently, she said, in her wretched moments. Mrs. Heath threw plates at her husband. Her aim was not good for on one occasion she missed her husband's head and hit her little boy.

INVOLVES QUEER POINT.

LINEMAN'S BELT EXHIBIT.

A nice legal point is involved in the suit of R. S. Merwin, a telephone line-man, against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, to recover $15,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received by falling from a pole.

Merwin was working for the company at Riverside, assisting another employee to remove twenty wires covering a distance of 110 feet. He alleged the company was negligent in not providing a helper to stand at the foot of the pole on which he was working and assist in pulling the enormous weight of the combined twenty wires.

When Merwin exerted his utmost strength, the D ring belt he wore slipped and he was precipitated to the ground, breaking the arches of his feet. The company contends that Merwin fell while he was supplying himself, was defective. The belt is an exhibit at the trial in Judge Wallace's court.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW JUDGES. Help is still needed to grind the grist, pouring into the Superior Court Judge C. W. Nichol of Tuolumne county came here yesterday and is sitting in Extra Sessions Three. Judge W. B. Wallace of Tulare county is doing duty in Extra Sessions One and Three, returning home yesterday.

HE LOSES. The second trial of the suit of C. A. Boyle against the Auburn Automobile Company in Judge Finlayson's court yesterday resulted in judgment for the plaintiff. Boyle sought to recover four automobiles for money lent R. L. Forsyth, manager of the Central Motor Car Company, which handled the Auburn machine. The court held that possession did not pass from the company to the manager.

DAMAGE SUIT. Suits filed yesterday by H. H. Hayward and his wife, Kate A. Hayward, against the Emil Dolevich Company and G. W. Walker, for personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Hayward, aggregate $11,000. It is alleged in the complaint that Mrs. Hayward descended in the elevator at the Walter Theater after a meeting of Laurentinus Circle No. 21, Women of Woodcraft, and by reason of negligence on the part of the operator her right leg was crushed between the cage and the iron grating enclosing the shaft.

HIS FIRST ORDER. The first order issued by Judge Willis yesterday as presiding judge of the Superior Court, was to make Wednesday after the Easter Monday a day of court naturalization day. In each month is not finished on that date it will be continued the following day. As a result of this order, the court will not be closed on the day of the celebration of the birth of the nation, which he received the attorney's congratulations.

PROTECT PUBLIC BY ORDINANCE.

COMMISSION HEARS COMPLAINT OF MISREPRESENTATION.

It is charged by Passengers that Steamship Company Sold Tickets on Declaration That Vessels Are Larger Than They Are—Council May Act.

Because an agent of the West Coast Steamship Company is said to have misrepresented the tonnage of boats on the line and by this and other means induced passengers to patronize the company's boats, complaint has been made to the Harbor Commission and steps have been taken to investigate the matter.

Special Counsel Hewitt was instructed to draft the ordinance immediately and it is expected that the ordinance will be presented to the Council at its meeting next Tuesday.

The charges against the West Coast Steamship Company first brought to the attention of the Harbor Commission by H. B. Gurley, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Complaint was made to Gurley by a score of owners of travelers who had used the West Coast steamers. They declared that they were told the boats were large passenger vessels, but that after they had bought their tickets they found themselves on lumber schooners, and much smaller than represented.

Theodore Fulton, general agent of the West Coast line, who has an office at No. 518 South Spring street, declared yesterday that no misrepresentation had been made to passengers here and that he is at a loss to understand why complaint has been made.

"We have thirty-two vessels on our line," said Fulton. "It is true that they carry freight. All boats plying between here and San Francisco on all lines carry freight. Our boats have a cargo hold of only 150 tons and take back cargoes of asphalt and cement."

In his letter to the Harbor Commission, Gurley says a number of the West Coast steamers are leased

Each of the officials of the Chamber of Commerce say misrepresentation by the steamship companies must be stopped and to this end they will not only draft an ordinance with the view of ending it, but will also lay the matter before the District Attorney and see if criminal action cannot be taken against the persons responsible.

IT BLOWS OVER.

But little remained yesterday of the inter-family row which three establishments stirred up the police Tuesday night except a few casual bruises on the person of Dr. J. W. Jauch, who had to go to the Receiving Hospital for repairs after the fight.

The trouble appears to have had its origin in the Fremont Hotel at Fourth and Olive streets, where Col. R. A. Falkenberg, brother-in-law of Dr. Jauch, resides. It is said that Mrs. Falkenberg objected to her husband going to the bar for evening wearing his jewelry. The altercation extended to Jauch's own residence, at No. 400 South Grand avenue, and the doctor was considerably used up. It is unlikely that there will be any prosecutions.

They declared that they were told the boats were large passenger vessels, but that after they had bought their tickets they found themselves on lumber schooners, and much smaller than represented.

A POOR WAY TO HIDE

The ostrich endeavoring to conceal itself from danger, thrusts its head into the sand, doubtless believing that if it cannot see, neither can it be seen. This is a poor way to hide because it leaves the body almost entirely exposed to attack.

Just as ineffectual is the attempt to cure Skin Diseases by the application of salves, cosmetics, lotions, "creams," "skin foods," etc. True, such treatment may gloss over or temporarily hide the outward eruptions, in some cases, but this method does nothing to destroy the impurities, humors or acids in the blood, which produce skin disorders, and the trouble is no more cured than is the ostrich hidden.

Lying just beneath the outer covering or tissue-skin is a mass of branched flesh which surrounds and protects the tiny veins, pores and glands. It is here the impurities from the blood are deposited and the acid matter causes irritation and inflammation, which soon breaks the thin, tissue-like cuticle, and the result is manifested in Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Acne, pimples, or some other disfiguring or annoying eruption.

Since Skin Diseases are the result of bad blood it can readily be seen that there is but one way to produce a cure, and that is, to purify the blood. Local treatment can only afford temporary relief.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing all humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin instead of being irritated and inflamed by sour impurities, is nourished and soothed by this cooling healthy stream of blood, and all disfiguring blemishes or eruptions gradually but surely disappear.

S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein lies its power. The trouble cannot remain after the cause has been removed, and S. S. S. will certainly remove the cause. It cures Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Acne, pimples, blotches, rashes, and all eruptions of the skin.

Go to any reliable drug store and ask for S. S. S. and accept nothing in place of it. Any druggist can supply you and most of them wish their customers to have what they call for. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

ACTIVITY GROWS NEAR FULLERTON

Union Will Erect Big Tank for New Wells.

Olinda and Orande Extend Their Operations.

Developments Indicate Long Period of Success.

Developments in the Fullerton field and vicinity the past several days indicate a long period of activity. The Union, Midway View, Olinda and the Orande companies making the most pronounced advance.

That the Union expects results from the wells in the valley within a short time is forecasted in its preparations for carrying for the oil. Plans are now under way for the construction of a 50,000 barrel tank centrally located to the wells now drilling or contemplated.

All the drilling wells of the Union on the new lease are now down between 900 and 1000 feet and work is being vigorously pushed. The formation, according to the logs of the several wells, is said to be most encouraging.

The Midway View Company will start developments in a short time on the five acres that the company holds between the Triarte and Fischer leases. The results attained on the Fischer have induced it, it is said, the Midway people, to get down to drilling without further delay.

The Fischer will quit work with the rotary and continue with Standard tools. This decision was reached when conglomerate at 3500 feet depth made work difficult with the hardest encountered. Also, they are having trouble with water which will have to be further delayed before drilling can continue.

On the Petroleum property the cement is setting. The water was shut off at 2500 feet in ten-inch casing. The management is reported as pleased with progress made in this hole and has already selected a site for

The Oil Industry.

ACTIVITY GROWS NEAR FULLERTON

Union Will Erect Big Tank for New Wells.

Olinda and Orande Extend Their Operations.

Developments Indicate Long Period of Success.

Developments in the Fullerton field and vicinity the past several days indicate a long period of activity. The Union, Midway View, Olinda and the Orande companies making the most pronounced advance.

That the Union expects results from its wells in the valley within a short time is forecasted in its preparations for caring for the oil. Plans are now under way for the construction of a $9,000 barrel tank centrally located to the wells now drilling or contemplated.

All the drilling wells of the Union on the new lease are now down being vigorously pushed. The formation, according to the logs of the several wells, is said to be most encouraging.

The Midway View Company will start developments in a short time on the five acres that the company holds between the Yrisito and Fischer basins. The results attained on the Fischer have induced it to start the Midway people, to get down to drilling without further delay.

The Fischer will quit work with the rotary and continue with standard tools. This decision was reached when conglomerate at 2600 feet depth made work difficult with the rotary. The present formation is the hardest encountered. Also, they are having trouble with water which will have to be cemented off before drilling is continued.

On the Petroleum property the cement is setting. The water was shut off at 2500 feet, in ten-inch casing. The management is reported as pleased with progress made in this hole and has already selected a site for well No. 2, where drilling will begin as soon as a rig can be erected. Drilling in well No. 1 will begin within the next several days.

The Olinda Oil Company is starting two new wells, one near the southern edge of Olinda and the other farther east on the company's property, where several good wells are now producing.

Starts Fourth Well.

In the Whittier field the rig for well No. 4 of the Orande Oil Company has been finished and everything is in readiness for spudding. The site of the new well is considered unusually favorable on account of its close proximity to some of the Menzies Company's most promising holes.

Orande No. 3 is getting a fair showing of oil, it is said. This well had to be drilled. The output of No. 3 well is making 400 barrels a day.

Independents May Deliver.

The Independent Agency makes the announcement to its members that they may now make tender to the Union Oil Company of the amount of storage oil which they wish to sell at the agreed price of thirty-five cents a barrel. The Union is prepared to take all the oil offered up to one-half of all the oil now in storage, 11,000,000 barrels, until May 31.

Many of the smaller companies will probably deliver a part of their storage but the large operators, who are prepared to hold on, will not deliver. They express themselves as able and desirous of holding their excess production for better prices, which the best informed men predict for the near future.

To Sell Delinquent Stock.

Delinquent stock in the National Pacific Oil Company on the assessment of a cent a share will be sold May 10. The company is now erecting a rig for well No. 3 on section 10, 12, 21, Midway field. The location is on the south line, 1020 feet east of well No. 1, which was originally a flowing well. The company's well on section 15 is still on the pump and producing from 125 to 150 barrels a day. Two strata of oil sands were penetrated in this well and the gas pressure is extremely strong.

Well Is Gassing.

On the section 6 property of the United Oil Company in North Midway, well No. 8 has been gassing heavily and occasionally has flowed the past several days. This well is in the shallowest part of the section a property being finished at a depth of 800 feet. It has long been a regular producer. It is 300 feet from well No. 9, which when brought in flowed 2400 barrels a day. On section 24 United well 24 is making an average of 275 barrels a day. Well No. 17 which pumped about 40 barrels a day for a long time sanded up recently. A fishing job in United No. 31, section 20, is about completed.

Oil Notes and Personal.

Stock advanced recently from three to nine cents a share. Reports from the field are that there has been no change at the property and that the advance, apparently, is without reason.

The Final will vote June 8 on a proposal to increase its capital stock from $200,000 to $2,000,000, to provide funds for development purposes. All options for the sale of this property have expired.

The Rex Midway Oil Company Well No. 1, in the Midway field, has reached a depth of 3100 feet, has drilled into a formation containing oil and gas. The water was shut off at 2015 feet.

Stock listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange that were ex-dividend yesterday are Union Petroleum, Union, Mexican Petroleum common, and United Petroleum.

The Amalgamated Oil Company has declared a dividend of $1 a share, payable May 21. Books close May 11.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN AND MEN BY ORVE GRAY

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The dainty woman selects for her personal belongings a dainty perfume. There must not be too distinct an odor, but simply a suggestion of the breath of violets, the blush of roses, the spice of the carnation. A sachet is apt to give this effect more satisfactorily than does an essence, or an extract. A delightful pot-pourri which I ran across in one of the best toilet departments, gave just the wished for fragrance—"of roses and spice and everything nice."

"I remember," said the merchant who has been in business in Los Angeles since the early days, "the first time that we gave back the purchaser's money upon an article with which she was not contented."

"When entered my office one morning two ladies sat there and as I passed into the inner office, I heard one say to the other, 'Of course this will never return my money—it is just a waste of time to ask them to—let I am going to ask anyhow.' There was something aggravating about the way in which she said this, and, although I was not the member of the firm whose business it was to attend to such matters, I went out and asked what was the trouble. 'Well, I just don't like this coat,' said the woman, 'and I want my money back.'—she said it as though she knew that she was setting off a firecracker, but I replied by asking what she had paid for the garment. 'Twenty dollars,' said she. 'I reached down into my pocket and drew forth $20 and handed it to her, taking the coat. She looked as though she could have fainted with surprise. 'Pleased—she said—she said she would be right down to the cloak department and bought another coat and paid $20 for it. And that was the inauguration of the 'money-back system' which this house has always maintained."

As you see, it was a disconcerted number of our sex which brought about that innovation in merchandising. Or—was it the contentment of that member who had obtained her money back? Either way—it is a system which has been greatly appreciated and—greatly abused, as many merchants know.

Summer Coats. The newest coats for summer are of paper white Agate, with revers extending across one side, the latter made from heaviest lace of macramé. These are stunning in effect, and have sufficient warmth for wear over linens, toward evening when cool breezes blow.

Wanted Athletic Boys. "I would like to know of at least one boy," said the girl newly arrived from the East, "who is all around athletic and active. I have met boys who play tennis, but they seem to me to be weak, but dancing is to them a bore. Those who ride horseback, will have none of the aforesaid exercises; while the ones who spend all their time at that and vote everything else of little account. Are the boys in this locality lazy, or—?" and here she stopped.

I suspect that she is a match for any of them in any one of their chosen pastimes, and so perhaps she is more right to glory in her own all-around activity.

And Blazer Hats. And the blazer girl will wear, when the season has a special show of blazer hats to match her coat—stripped in the same college colors and drooping as are the coats. The new blazer hats are abundant at several of the local stores.

Shrine Emblems. Never for any kind of convention has there been such a variety of emblems and decorations. It is jolly, I think.

One store has the fee in everything from the buttons to the can. Half-done in paper. There are also huge plumes—of paper—in the colors of the Shrine. I vote that every one of us, even if we have not even a speaking acquaintance with a Shrine, wear at least one of the festive, heart-lifting emblems to the festivity, heart and soul.

Magie's Gowns. One of the most reliable houses on Broadway has a special show of Magie's gowns for summer wear. Each has some especially chic feature, allying it to the season's latest styles.

The "Old O' Dream." That is my name for it—but it is not what the manufacturer calls it. It is the most convenient gown you ever saw. One-piece dress, open all the way down the front, and folding over about half a yard, so that when you are doing the morning work and some one comes to the door, you may throw the dress on over your "petty" or your pajamas, just fasten one button, while you are en route to the door—and you are "fit to be seen." Neatly made from percale in good washable colors—these inexpensive garments, found at a reliable Broadway store, should form a part of every housekeeper's wardrobe.

Key in Supplies. "You notice the annual jewelry sale of—?" asked Elizabeth, when I met her yesterday on Broadway. "I have laid in a supply of articles for small gifts for next Christmas," she said with enthusiasm.

"Why," she continued, "at holiday time, when you just must have such things, you will be paying five or six times as much for them. I shall put mine away, and from time to time, as I see pretty cases or ways of 'doing them up,' I shall prepare them, and at holiday time, I shall not be hurried and I shall be able to give my friends much more valuable presents than I could otherwise make." Good idea of Elizabeth's, I am sure.

For the Laundry. The Good Housekeeper has a fashion of having the best handkerchiefs pressed and folded in the usual manner, while those which are worn or are folded three-corner-wise, and also has a distinguished fold placed in the worn or thin bed linen and table linen. Thus it is possible to tell at a glance, the better piece, which saves the mortification, for instance warehouse, was filled with the members of the band who arrived Tuesday and yesterday. There were at least 200 of them, an unkept brigade, all loud in their boasts that they will "show the people of San Diego," and "will get even with that Vigilance Committee."

NOT INVITED.

For the last ten days the members have been collecting from the north. They say they intend to move in a body of 500 on San Diego tomorrow, when 100 recruits from St. Louis are scheduled to arrive.

According to the tales of the four "captains" of the band that reached here yesterday, most of them were vigilantes at Lancaster, Saugus and Newhall, and hustled out of those towns faster than they arrived. At San Fernando and Burbank, yesterday morning, they were told to "keep moving by the local constables. At every point they were given a warm reception and farewell, two ceremonies in one.

Fred Monico, H. C. Adams, A. R. White and E. A. Johnson, the leaders of the band say they lived on mush and rice and desert sand while crossing the Mojave Desert. At every railroad station Southern Pacific detectives drove them off the company's property. Mostly they were but they rode on a freight train from Saugus to Newhall, the "captains" say.

Monico declared there were 155 "walkers" in Bakersfield Monday who were making their best time toward Los Angeles. They are expected to arrive here tomorrow. According to Monico, 300 left San Francisco two days ago for San Diego, 500 left St. Louis two weeks ago for this locality, and 200 started from Kansas City about the same time. These bands are expected by the police to arrive here within the next few days.

A crowd of forty I.W.W.'s are on their way to San Diego, following the Southern Pacific line through the Colorado Desert, being now at Imperial Junction.

"We are going to break that vigilante bunch or bust," boasted Monico yesterday. "We will fill their jails at San Diego, and every jail within 100 miles until they can't take care of any other cases. We are here to put up a fight for free speech and to organize. One hundred and fifty members of the order reached San Diego yesterday and they were not met by any vigilantes."

Reviling against religion and ministers, the motley crew told of the offering of a prayer in their behalf by Bishop McCormick of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who conducts a mission on the Mojave Desert twenty miles south of here.

"That bishop wanted to pray for us," said Monico, "so we let him pray with his stuff. He prayed for our success and welfare and for the success of the I.W.W. But the first place we got into, which was Lancaster, we were met by a Vigilance Committee of more than 200, mostly boys. That's the way the prayer went. We didn't go to use for prayers."

At Lancaster according to Monico, men and boys with guns told them to move on the double quick out of town. One young man, then, as they were hot-footing it away.

Patrolman Phillips reported to the police department that he was told that a crowd of from seventy-five to 100 I.W.W.'s were at Honda yesterday, marching south.

Mayor Alexander said that the moment the members of the I.W.W. infringe on the laws of the city in the least respect they will be vigorously prosecuted.

"They have a right to come here," said the mayor, "but they must break the law they will vigorously deal with. We will tolerate no disturbance on their part. They must speak in the limited zone."

These knights of never await will not be allowed to make Los Angeles their rendezvous, Chief Sebastian declared.

"We will tolerate no lawlessness on the part of these men," he said. "If they remain idle and destitute they will be arrested. The police department will not allow them to gather here after the first of May from San Diego. We are arresting many every day, and will continue to uphold the city's laws in regard to begging, street speaking and vagrancy."

WHY NOT FIRST STREET? Merchants North of Second Street Complain They're to Be Debarred from Benefits of Shrine Parade.

A strenuous campaign was started yesterday by the merchants doing business on Broadway and Spring streets, north of Second, to accomplish a change in the route of the parade during the Shrine festival next week. It seems that all the parades—the electrical parades at night, the San Diego parade on Thursday, and the apocryphal fiesta parade on Friday will leave Broadway at Second street. The contention of the merchants is that many of them have been contributors to the fund for the celebration and they are entitled to consideration, and they demand that the parade all go as far north as First street. No matter where the parades start in the southern part of the city, the change can be made by adding but four blocks to the line of march—from First street north to Temple, on Spring street, and south the same two blocks on Main; go south to Ninth, on Main, north to First on Spring, and distant.

This plan would not only accommodate all the merchants on Broadway, between First and Second, and on Spring street, from Second to Temple, but it would make available for spectators the elevated portion of Broadway, north of First.

ALLEGED BANDITS JAILED. Imperial County posse lands supposed members of De La Torre's band and Sheriff's After Leader.

Deputy United States Marshal Durbin landed Prospero Sals and Jose Vasquez, alias Romero, a pair of Baca Indians, in the County Jail yesterday. They were caught at El Centro by a posse headed by Sheriff Meadows, of Imperial county, on the charge of robbery. The prisoners were afterward arraigned before United States Commissioner Van Dyke, and they were given further time to prepare for their defense.

Sals and Vasquez, according to the statements of the officers, are part of the marauding band headed by Tirzo De La Torre, a renegade Indian who has still been able to elude the authorities. His chief business for weeks had been to organize bands to ride across the line into Mexican territory, commit depredations of various kinds and then slip over to the American side again.

ROB ORIENT FOR CHARITY'S SAKE.

SOCIETY BENEFIT OPERA TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT.

"Japplyland," Magnificent in Scenic Effects and Costuming, to Be Produced by Four Hundred of the Elite to Secure Needed Funds for Industrial Home for Boys.

A new Four Hundred is to be created by official edict of leaders of the city's elite tonight.

That Four Hundred will be those of the elect who appear in the magnificent production of "Japplyland," which Los Angeles society will present at the Auditorium this evening for the benefit of the McKelvey Industrial Home.

In many respects the effort marks a new departure in the charitable efforts of the city's social leaders. Charity balls have been frequent and benefit theatricals hardly less so, but the number of operas of the historic scope of "Japplyland," undertaken by the elite, is a first.

The actual rehearsals for the performance, which will be repeated tomorrow night, have occupied many weeks. There are 400 in the cast, all people of prominence. The scenery, a riot of oriental splendor, and the costumes are worth a small fortune.

For the past week a little army of electricians and stage carpenters have been busy in the preparation of the notable scenic effect which will supply a background for a veritable human kaleidoscope.

Officers of the Elbell Club, under whose auspices the production is staged, report a heavy demand from this and surrounding cities for accommodations on the first night and the audiences on both occasions will be representative of the whole Southland.

MAY PLEAD GUILTY. Detective Brown was busy yesterday securing evidence against J. W. Davis, alias Frank Teller of Santa Monica, who is believed by Brown to be connected with white slavery. Brown said the man is ready to plead guilty to sending objectionable matter through the mails and that it is probable the postal authorities will take hold of the case. Brown is also looking for a Julia Wilford, who is supposed to have been an accomplice of Davis in the alleged attempt to lure a girl from this city to the beach for immoral purposes. The man is in the City Jail, awaiting disposition of his case.

LAND HEARING BRIEF. On account of illness in the family of United States District Attorney McCormick, here was court a short session yesterday in the hearing of the Southern Pacific land cases. Capt. W. H. McKittrick, of Santa Barbara, testified as to the mineral character of the land as shown by the presence of millions of tons of fuller's earth in plain sight on the land. Capt. McKittrick said that he had been informed by Prof. Josiah Owen, then a mineralogist in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company, that in his opinion there might be oil in the Elk Hills country, but he thought it could not be found in quantities within less than 2400 feet, and oil men agreed that such a depth was prohibitive.

GOVERNMENT'S CASE AGAINST ALLEGED EMBELLIZER.

Mail Clerk Who Is Charged With Having Stolen Articles to Send to Denver Woman, Is Hurt by Testimony of Mother-in-law—Odd Angles.

The examination of witnesses in the suit charging Frank E. Tennant with embezzlement was concluded last night in the United States District Court. Arguments will be heard by Judge Weilborn today.

Mrs. Sophia Drake, mother-in-law of the accused, testified there was no reason for Tennant to steal articles from the mails at Long Beach, as Mrs. Drake, widow of L. N. Drake, gave Tennant carte blanche to draw on her bank account for whatever funds he might need.

Assistant United States Dist. Atty. Regan produced a check signed by Mrs. Sophia Drake, drawn in favor of F. E. Tennant, for $10, which Tennant had indorsed to the order of Leo Longley, official stenographer, as his fees for work, indicating that so far as that individual check, which they correspond under the alias of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dawson.

An effort was made to have it appear that she had been threatened by the government, in regard to her testimony, but she said she testified against Tennant because she knew that letters were in possession of Regan, telling the truth, and she was not to be gained by her refusal to give her evidence. She declared Regan had never suggested to her that she swear falsely.

The government alleges that Tennant, while a postal clerk at Long Beach, stole articles from the mails and sent them as gifts from himself to Mrs. Dimars at Denver, addressing her as Mrs. E. Dawson.

Special Accountant of United States Treasury Department Looking Into Things in This City.

Samuel A. Eddy, special accountant of the United States Treasury Department, reported yesterday to Internal Revenue Collector Parker, and it is expected that he will be working here all summer.

Eddy's mission has to do with the reports of California corporations under what is known as the 1 per cent. tax law, and it is believed that a number of corporations will be called on to explain returns made by them for 1911. It is understood many discrepancies have been found in some of these reports that will have to be corrected by the officers of the corporations.

Collector Parker made a tour of the district last week to assist a number of the corporation officers to prepare their statements. There is much more to be done before the delinquent corporations are finally certified to the United States District Attorney for prosecution.

The 1 per cent. tax law provides that each corporation doing business in the State, showing a net income of $5000 annually, must pay 1 per cent. on its revenue.

There has been much trouble and considerable misinformation given in regard to the workings of the 1 per cent. tax law, and it will be a part of the mission of Eddy not only to inform everybody in regard to what is expected by the government in these annual statements, but to seek corrections in many instances where the figures are believed to be wrong. The special accountant has been working on the quiet in Los Angeles for the past two weeks and has just made his presence known.

Secret Service Agent Reports Doings of Newly Organized United States District Court in Arizona.

Secret Service Agent Hazen of the United States Treasury Department returned yesterday from his semi-annual visit to Arizona, where a number of criminal cases were disposed of by the United States District Court, just organized by Judge Morrow of the Circuit Court of Appeal.

The Federal grand jury returned ninety-seven indictments at the session of the court in Tucson, and over 300 witnesses were examined by that body.

David Ellsworth, sentenced to the penitentiary at Florence for fifteen years on the charge of counterfeiting, was returned to that institution, to serve his unexpired sentence. Ellsworth is a Los Angeles man.

Frank Bender was sentenced to four years at Florence, on a similar charge.

DRINK HABIT KILLS 700,000 PEOPLE ANNUALLY

Fifty-Three Neal Institutes in the United States, Canada and Australia Are Daily Reducing This Great Mortality.

There is no reason why a man should continue to poison himself with alcohol, which always means absolute ruin, when he can go to a Neal Institute and be relieved of all craving and necessity for alcoholic stimulants in three days' time without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections.

Dr. Neal has demonstrated on hundreds of patients that the condition known commonly as "drink habit" is a poisoning of the system with alcohol, and not a disease. The Neal treatment eliminates all alcohol and neutralizes its functional effect upon the body tissues, leaving the drinker in a sober, normal condition.

Full information regarding the Neal treatment, call at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, or write to phone G. U. Neal, manager, for Dr. Neal's free book, "Just Say No to Drink." There are no secret cures and that you are taking great risk in consulting such.

ARMED GARBAGE TRUCE.

Fateful Firm of May Passes Without County Making Any Arrests for Violation of Its Ordinance.

No move was made in the garbage situation yesterday, though the ordinance forbidding the transportation of refuse through the county became effective. The District Attorney is waiting for the city to take some action. If City Attorney Shenk declares the ordinance to be valid in his judgment, then the city must make immediate preparations for disposing of the garbage.

Capt. Fredericks thinks the residents of Covina have been very patient and after examining conditions at the hog farm he is disposed to view the question from a broad angle. The city was notified last September that on May 1 it would be a violation of law to continue to dispose of the refuse to a private company for feeding hogs. At that time, members of the Board of Public Works promised the Supervisors to take some action, but nothing has been done.

The conference Tuesday between representatives of the District Attorney's office, City Attorney and Board of Public Works is responsible for a sort of armed truce. It is likely that ocean-dumping will be resorted to if Shenk finds the ordinance valid. The latest development in the situation directly affects approximately 16,000 hungry hogs. It appears that found in San Diego.

ALLIED SWINDLERS CAUGHT.

The Sheriff's office here received information yesterday of the arrest of F. L. Reed at San Diego on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses and embezzlement. The man is wanted in San Bernardino and Visalia for victimizing the ranchmen. It is said he would get a lot of produce from the farmers, promising to pay when the stuff was sold to the dealers, and that he never remitted. In this way he would secure the vegetables, eggs, etc., for nothing. The officers say he swindled San Bernardino men of nearly $5000 worth of produce. Local officers have been looking for Reed for the past week and it was through their efforts that he was found in San Diego.

PRINCESS OPENS FISH TOURNEY.

AVALON, May 1.—The Catalina summer fishing tournament which lasts from May until October began today. The first light tackle button went to the Princess Rosalind of Rome. While fishing near White Rock, she brought to gaff an albicore weighing twenty-nine pounds. She fought the catch for nearly two hours from her launch.

George Whittell, Jr., of San Francisco, landed a fish weighing 28 1/2 pounds. Herman Faulk of Milwaukee got a fifteen-pound albicore upon three-six tackle. A. A. Eaton of San Diego recorded a white sea bass weighing 24 pounds.

A Good Plan. MINOR LEAGUE WORLD SERIES.

PLAN TO DECIDE CLASS "AA" CHAMPIONSHIP.

San Francisco Magnate Starts a Movement to Have International League and American Association Winners Play Pacific Coast Championships Next Fall.

SAN FRANCISCO, (Cal.) May 1.—

[Exclusive Dispatch.] On a further attempt to bring about a world's series for the class "A" baseball championship, J. Cal. Ewing, of the San Francisco club of the Coast League, has entered into communication with the American Association and the International League.

Ewing wants to bring the pennant-winning teams of these two leagues to the Pacific Coast for a three weeks' series to be played in San Francisco and Los Angeles after the season closes October 27, and thinks he has fixed up on a feasible project.

GAMES FOR THREE WEEKS.

"I have proposed to bring the pennant winners from these two class A leagues to California," he said tonight. "Their season closes only two weeks ahead of us and they can play exhibition baseball enroute to the Coast or on the Coast in the Northwest and in Sacramento if they choose."

"I would also select the runnerup in the Coast League to play exhibition ball so there would be no cessation in baseball for three weeks. Under that schedule, every one of the three pennant winners would have a week with the other two clubs and in addition could play one week of exhibition ball."

TO DETERMINE BEST TEAM.

"It would establish once for all the crack team in the minor leagues and there ought to be a world of interest in such a series. I am taking the subject up early, so that we can complete our plans, if any such arrangement is to be made."

Ewing tried to put the same plan through last year, but the Easterners didn't enthrone.

He hopes this time to be able to show the clubs and players where they will make good money, as well as have a fine trip to California.

JOHNSON'S EXPENSES MONEY IS POSTED.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Jack Curley posted tonight with Al Teaney $1169 to defray Jack Johnson's training expenses for his fight with Jim Flynn at Las Vegas, N. M., July 4.

Flynn and Curley will leave here tomorrow for Montezuma, N. M., where the "Fighting Boy" will do his training. They expect to arrive in Montezuma within a week, making stops at Denver and Pueblo.

Two of Flynn's trainers, Tommy Ryan and Howard Morrow, will be in the camp May 15.

James J. Corbett and Tommy Burns will arrive during the first week in June. Flynn now weighs 210 pounds.

Work on the arena, it was said today, will begin as soon as Curley arrives at Las Vegas. The plans, said Curley, were for 30,000 seats.

Bert Dingley and the Simplex Speed Marvel.

Dark horse of the big race. This is the car that is gliding around the course at terrific speed in spite of the assertion of Dingley that he is not satisfied. This is the question mark of the free-for-all and is the racer that has set everybody guessing. The Simplex is one of the fastest cars in the big race, yet no one has clocked Dingley for a complete lap. He has turned the back stretch at 165 miles an hour. Fast enough to win.

Question Mark.

SIMPLEX IS DARK HORSE OF SANTA MONICA ROAD RACE.

Barney Oldfield Turns Fastest Five Consecutive Laps Ever Made on Any Course Hitting the Back Stretch at Almost 180 Miles an Hour—Bruce Brown Sets Terrific Pace—Light Cars Make Fast Time.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

BERT DINGLEY, on the Simplex is the dark horse of the Santa Monica Road Race. Tearing around at close to 110 miles an hour Dingley has shown great speed on the back stretches of the 8.417 miles of smooth roadway, but he has never allowed the spectators to clock him on a complete circuit.

Just how fast the Simplex really is no one but Dingley knows. It is a peculiar fact that Bert is the first one on the course. Just as day is breaking the bark of the snappy Simplex motor disturbs the morning silence and Dingley comes flying around the Soldier's Home turn. The old boys in blue are up and out ready for the red racer, but they do not take the time.

The Simplex is the question mark of the speed trials. Barney Oldfield would like to know just how fast Dingley's car really is. David Bruce Brown would be much more comfortable if he was sure that his Benz can walk away from the Simplex. Teddy Tetzlaff would be happy if he knew the limit of the car's speed. Oscar Werner thinks it is such a grand car they all must guess. Only Bert knows.

SAUCY SIMPLEX.

With the course in splendid shape yesterday morning Dingley opened the saucy Simplex on the back stretch and came down San Vicente boulevard at a speed that will certainly place him in the front rank of the free-for-all drivers if he hits such a clip Saturday. The car held to the course like a yacht on the water. Dingley took the turns like the veteran he is and the Simplex, if it had completed the lap, might have been carded for one of the fastest circuits ever made at Santa Monica.

Instead Bert raced to the "S" turn, bounded down the straightaway in front of the grand stand, and then

NEW RECORD IN MT. WILSON RACE.

WESTERLUND WINS IN FASTEST TIME EVER MADE.

Zeyouma Also Beats Previous Time and Gets Second Place—Gregg Comes in Third—Nineteen Runners Enjoy Fifth Annual Contest. Course Longer This Year.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

Paul Westerlund, wearing the "Flying Doughnut" of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, won the fifth annual Sierra Madre-Mt. Wilson hill climb yesterday in the remarkably fast time of 1 hour, 21 minutes, 56 seconds, establishing a new record.

Philip Zeyouma, the little Hopi Indian, who won The Times modified marathon race, won second place with a record of 1 hour, 25 minutes, 67 seconds. This is also better time than ever before made on the course.

GREATEST NUMBER EVER.

A number of the contestants stayed at the hotel in Sierra Madre the night before the race, but most of them went out to the starting point on the early car from the city.

There were nineteen men on the track when the occasional gun was fired, the greatest number ever entered in a Mt. Wilson race.

Several of those who entered, failed to put in an appearance at the start, but that is always expected in an open athletic contest of any kind, and makes little difference. Those who fail to show up are usually nothing more than "near athletes," with a fancy for publicity.

OVER LONGER COURSE.

The race was due to start at 9 o'clock, but a late car caused a delay and the first group of mountain climbers were started off at seven minutes after the hour. The second enlistment was set a drift five minutes later. The reason for starting the runners off in two sections was the narrowness of the trail.

This year the start was at the Board of Trade building in Sierra Madre instead of at the foot of the trail. This made the course longer and the record made by Westerlund even more sensational.

LEADS AT THE WAY.

Numbers were drawn to decide who would start in the different squads. The winner and Zeyouma were separated. The former led out with his finished stride from the first and held his lead to the top. Zeyouma was started out with the second expedition and by the time he had reached the half-way house, all the runners except Westerlund were in his wake.

INDIAN IN SECOND PLACE.

After leaving Martin's Camp the trail drops from sight and nothing was heard of the "leading man" till a peeper on the roof, sang out, "Number four is coming." A few seconds later a flash of red and white told the story; and much to his surprise, the northern boy had finished the race and broken the record.

ABLES CLIPS ANGELS' WINGS.

Holds Local Players to Two Scattered Singles.

Oaks Shake Many Swats from Halla and Flater.

Coy Leads Sluggers With Four Mighty Blows.

BY GREY OLIVER.

Oakland, 1; Los Angeles, 2. Well, Bud Sharpe brought his brand new Oakland team down to see us yesterday and we ate his'n. That is, we were yesterday.

Ables was pitching. That settled it. When this big bird is right he makes all of the best of them swing their heads off. Why, the Angels only knocked eight balls out of the infield and six of these were flies. Two singles were all he allowed and the runs you make off that Oakland team with two little swats won't get you much.

Incidentally, these Oaks are some. What they can't hit is not worth slugging at. They simply knocked the stuffing out of Baby Doll Halla's arm in the first four innings and when he was hauled out of the game and Flater stuck in, they clouted Flater just about as hard.

Bert Coy, who was thrown off the Vernon team because he loafed on the job, bounced the ball off all the fences for two doubles, a triple and a single and hit in as many runs with his swats in two different innings as the Angels got all afternoon. In addition to this he started his own run with a single and had two outs and an assist. This is how one man wins a game.

Nothing to it with Ables heaving. He leaped the ball right over the plate all the time. No chance to leave him behind. He had to get away to superintend the sinking of the Angels.

If he had been any better he would have had to send for some doctor. You can guess this when you know that such good ones as Daley, Helmlinger and Berger couldn't get the ball out of the infield.

Try to beat that fellow? Well, I guess not. He got by all but two and he probably didn't care about that pair, for in five of the innings no one reached first base. That's pitching, and that's what won the game.

Pretty soft for the Oaks, too, in other ways. Everything that Halla pitched they tried to knock to the fence. You can't pitch that fence ball to this kind of effect. Two singles, an error and a double in the first inning made two easy runs and after that the runs rained in. Two hits, an out and a double steal got another soft one in the third. Then came the fourth and the disfigurement of Halla.

Ables started this with a liner to Halla and then Cook sparked one to center for a single. Leard followed with a double and on Hoffman's out at first Cook scored. Then came the mighty Coy with a triple to center that sent in Leard. Halla was very groggy by this time and with the next ball pitched soaked Patterson on the arm. This was too much for Dillon and he threw Halla out of the game. Flater taking his place.

Flater didn't do any better in the fifth, for Helting and Sharpe, the first two to face him, hit him for singles. Miller's out at first advanced both runners a base and Ables' out at first scored Helting. Cook cracked out a double to left that sent Sharpe in.

These were all the runs but these were amply sufficient.

Ables was so tight that the Angels could not get a hit off him until the fourth inning. He put the first man out in this round and then walked Daley and Helmlinger, probably out

Ain't It a Shame the Way These Office Boys Impose on Poor Old Mr. Wad? Huh!

CONLEY AND WHITE WILL START REAL WORK TODAY.

White Takes Interest in May Day Ride—Fred Gilmore Is Anxious to Get Something in Welter Division Started—Packey Takes on Heavy Roy in the East.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE fight situation at Venice, where Jack White is working out for his little come-back stunt with Conley on May 10, was suspended while The Times May Day ride for the Los Angeles "Aids" was pulled off at the seaside. Jack got busy with the train sheet and helped all the little ones to get safely on their way home. Jack was greatly interested in the ride, and said that he did not know there were so many kids in the world, and wanted to know where they all came from. As for the children, they took to Jack the first time out, and every time he stopped and talked to a bunch, he soon had about a hundred gathered around, and when they were told that he was a fighter, the other attractions paled to a mere nothing, and White was the whole show.

After getting the May Day stuff off his hands, Jack went into active work with Fred Gilmore and Harry. No boxing was on the bill of fare yesterday, owing to the fact that "Kid" Snyder and Charles Dalton, the human maul bag, were unable to report for boxing duty.

Jack spent his time punching the bag, skipping rope and shadow boxing, and is at that point where he is just beginning to get good, and if Fred Gilmore can keep him coming he will be good when he faces Frankie. Jack seemed to have a great deal more freedom in his last movements yesterday, and he says that he is feeling "well" in the sea air.

You know this White-Conley affair is going to be a real battle, and there is just one reason for making the statement. Both boys have met decisive defeat in the Vernon Arena at the hands of Joe Rivers, and in each instance it was the first time that either of them had to be carried out, as to speak. The fact that they were piled out of the ring in the subconscious ego has been eating on the minds of these two fighters, and the chance is coming to show the public that "it was all a fluke." Two men back in the cage, and at the same time, therefore some fight.

There is another thing that the two men are getting behind and there is more than a little in the matter. Joe Rivers is now going into the light-weight class, and when he fought Conley and White for this reason had something on their minds when they started. Now both are back in their own class, but it looks as though White had to have a little trimming to make 125 pounds at 11 a.m. on the day of the fight, but Fred Gilmore knows his business, and his side of the forlorn hope engagement is likely to be O.K. Manager Harry says so.

The hard-training grind begins this afternoon at the rival camps. Conley will get into action with Frankie Gage, Bob Stark and Bob Monroe, and then finish with thirty minutes of the gym stuff. Frank seems good, having been in the fight for the past week and looks ready to slug a mountain as to his usual style.

Tom Jones seems to have got a new brand of "pop" instilled through Conley person's frame. He has taken to sparring when boxing, instead of plunging, as of old. This fact should make a big difference in his fight, as Frank has always started plunging with the bell, and taking the fight to his opponent all the way, thereby losing a great deal of his steam.

He is harking to Jones now and seems to have changed his methods, and we may see a new Conley on the beach, this is what he said when Harry Gilmore was working with the boy, and he did better for a while, but had a relapse in the evening, and you all know what he got. Now Tom holds the big stick over his dome and makes the little fellow listen to reason. Conley always tried to do all the fighting, now he will do his share, and that is all, and something may happen before the end of the twentieth round.

Jack will also put on a full program this afternoon, working with reads each with Dalton and Snyder. Fred Gilmore told me yesterday that he would be only too glad to see the welterweight start again and add further, if McCarey got any fighters here, he would jump back in the harness right off the bat. Fred is good right now and keeps in the condition while working with White and Snyder. In the event of the possibility of getting Packey McFarland into the welter rank, Fred said that he would have to run out of six and ten-round goes in the end and middle west before he would look at a fight, but that some good fights could be arranged if Pacato and Howard Baker could be rounded up. At the present time when we think of Baker it seems that the last report comes from Milwaukee, stating that the boy is getting heavy and would do better as a middleweight, but then give him a chance as when he was in our midst he was a real man.

Ad Wolgast will arrive in town Friday, ready to show the local fans what his close to nature thing at Wheeler Springs has done for him. He will take in the races at Santa Monica Saturday and on Sunday will box with Conley at Vernon.

Ad seems bright and we will know the final answer May 12, when he meets Willie Ritchie in San Francisco before the Hawthorne Club. This Ritchie is a tough boy, as was shown in his fight here last Thanksgiving with Freddie Welsh and if Ad's loss of his appendix has hurt him, it will show in the fight.

The fifteen-round semi-wind-up has been arranged for the Conley-White go on the 10th and will be between Battling Gage and Bobby Waugh, two 135 pounders at 10 o'clock. This fills out the card for the date. The curtain-raiser will be between Bob Graham and Harry Tenbrook, two lively middleweights, who like to mix. Uncle Tom has some class for the opening stuff and the 10th should be big day for the knights of the squared circle.

It seems that Packey McFarland has finally agreed to meet Ray Brown at Indianapolis. Now Brown can't make any better than 142, but the weight question has been carefully left out of all the reports, so it may be that Packey is seeking new fields to conquer after all. If this is the case there may be some local work for Fred Gilmore and Frank Piacato, and take it from us the fans would just eat welter stuff now after a steady diet of lightweights and feather.

Dope is a funny thing, and when looking at some of the past fight results over the country, we are forced to admit that the human element must enter in many of the battles, where one man has something on his opponent in the way of a bunch of al, have a look at this. Fred Welsh beat Abe Attell to every punch at Vernon, Matt Wells turned the same trick on Fred and then handed "Knockout" Brown a nice trimming. "Knockout" then beat Abe to it and on top of that is credited with two of those newspaper decisions over Ad Wolgast. Now Packey McFarland comes along and cleans Matt Wells to the Queen's taste. All are wondering what kind of a surprise awaits July 4, when Joe Rivers will take a flyer at the lightweight "kink."

Jack Johnson and Jim Flynn are really getting down to actual training. Flynn left yesterday for Las Vegas and Johnson is to follow tomorrow afternoon. The Las Vegas backers are getting busy and have everything ready for the fight, thus relieving Curley of all the worry about making the fight.

These rugged citizens of New Mexico start something is going to be finished and so there will be a fight or one or more fighters will be carried out dead to the world, having taken a neat dose of Colt lead.

It was once said of Jim Flynn that if he was given two empty quart bottles he could clean out any joint in the United States, that is just the way he fights and Johnson knows what to do with a fellow like this, walk slow boys, walk slow.

POMONA AND POETS TO CLASH SATURDAY P.M.

Whittier runs up against the Sageshens Saturday and the hair will fly from all that can be gathered. The Quakers have been the surprise of the season this year, for they have caused the mighty Wesleyans to exert themselves to the utmost to beat them and they have lowered the colors of Occidental once already this season. They will be laboring under a disadvantage this time, however, as they have only one good pitcher and he has pitched a hard game already this year.

Pomona has not had a workout since the U.S.C. game a week ago, and the chances are pretty strong that they will take the Quakers in. A Oliver will be the mainstay for the Poets, while Becker will uphold the Congregationists. In the event that Becker proves too easy, Daniels will take the box.

son and the many spectators were congratulating the winner, another figure appeared in the path and with a quick-like stride the little Indian wonder took second to the man he had beaten not three weeks ago.

CALLAGARO IS FOURTH. Westerlund was first to congratulate Uncle Sam's ward and the little "Red Man" showed his white teeth in a broad grin as he told the winner that he would beat him next time. Zeyouma spurred a big O. D. overcoat to speak to Joe Shouder, the coach, who showed great pleasure in the success of his find.

Adolphus Greig of the L. A. A. C. was third, finishing strong and showing good sportsmanship by shaking the hands of the two winners.

The veteran runner climbed over the finish line in a series of joyous monkey-jumps and stated that a spaghetti dinner was responsible for his poor showing.

OTHER RACERS IN CLIMB.

Floyd Cooper, L. C. Farley and N. D. Cooper hit the tape in rapid succession. Young Jordan finished strong, taking the eighth place. Carles topped up the trail for ninth and Miller took tenth honors.

Dal Fahy, who was doped to come in among the upper set, finished in what was declared to be a dead heat with Wil Robertson of Company C. The two men came up the trail together and fought for place during the last fifty yards of the long course, but all efforts were a draw.

RAY RACE BEST EVER.

The other climbers finished in perfect form, minus speed; but all declared that the race was the best thing of its kind ever run off in the State and pledged their support for next season.

Soldier Combs of Company F, who ran in uniform and carried his Springfield, established a record in his event, but it is expected that it will fall in a short time to members of rival companies in the Southern California military world.

WINNERS GET TROPHIES.

After all the athletes had gathered at the hotel, Manager Ross served a tasty luncheon and after a short rest, the men started down. Some made excellent time and others took their time, but they were all on the Board of Trade building to see Westerlund receive the Fox medal and the gold prize offered by the Sierra Madre Board of Trade. Zeyouma, the Tufts Lyon trophy and Greig the third prize cup.

Doctor Wiley's Opinion.

[Detroit Free Press:] Dr. Harvey W. Wiley was asked the other day if he had heard anything about the recent invention which gives to new wine all the properties of old wine. "No, I haven't," Doctor Wiley replied. Then, with a smile, he added: "But, by Jove, I attended a musical comedy performance the other night which certainly must have been treated with that invention."
